'We Mean to Beat Life Out of Hitler'—Churchill

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Churchill warned the French people tonight that Hitler "is resolved on nothing less than the complete wiping out of the French nation" and urged Frenchmen to "rearm your spirits before it is too late."

In a talk to the people of Britain's defeated ally, broadcast in both English and French, he declared that Britain is fighting for a victory which "we will share with you" and said all Britain asks of Frenchmen "is that, if you can not help us, at least you will not hinder us."

The Churchill broadcast which he made in two languages on the home, overseas and American as well as the French programs of the British Broadcasting Corporation, came at a time when the Germans are rumored attempting to manoeuvre the Vichy government into joining forces against Britain.

"Do not imagine, as the German-controlled wireless told you, that we English seek to take your ships and colonies," Mr. Churchill said. Britons seek only "to beat the life and soul out of Hitler."

The Prime Minister said that "when good people get into trouble because they are attacked and heavily smitten by the vile and wicked they must be careful not to get at loggerheads."

Mr. Churchill reminded the French that Britons have not forgotten "the ties that unite us to the French."

Hold the Seas And Gain in Air

Britain, "as ever," has command of the seas, he said, and "in 1941 we shall have command of the air."

"Remember what this means," he urged his French listeners. In a fighting speech Mr. Churchill referred to American help and declared: "The crimes of Herr Hitler are bringing upon him and upon all who belong to his system a retribution which many of us will live to see."

"The story is not yet finished, but it will not be so long. We are on his track and so are our friends across the Atlantic Ocean."

Appealing to France he said: "Frenchmen, for more than 30 years in peace and war I have marched with you and I am still marching along the same road tonight."

"I speak to you at your fire-sides wherever you may be or whatever your fortunes are. I repeat the prayer around the Louis d'Or (a French coin) 'Dieu protège la France'."

Declaring London is "bearing up well against the German bombardment," Mr. Churchill said: "Our air force has more than held its own. We are waiting for the long-promised invasion."

Then he quipped, "so are the fishes."

Mr. Churchill described Hitler and Mussolini as "these two villain messieurs" who wished "to carve up France, to one a leg, to another a wing, or again a portion of the breast."

He predicted all Europe, if Hitler "has his way, will be reduced to one uniform Boche land to be exploited, pillaged and bullied by his Nazi gangsters."

R.A.F. Multiplies Blows Berlin Shuts Down on Night Raid News

LONDON (CP)—The Royal Air Force was believed to have renewed its hammering at German-held "invasion" ports across the English Channel in daylight raids today.

Explosions from across the water were heard along the south-east coast of England this afternoon and shortly afterward heavy aircraft, which observers said were British bombers, crossed the coast and flew inland, apparently returning from an attack.

As this indication came of a stepping up in the tempo and power of British attacks, it was learned the Royal Air Force has dropped 200 tons of bombs on Berlin since September 1. There have been 14 separate night raids involving a total of 225 bombers.

It is believed in official quarters that R.A.F. bombers are doing far more damage to Germany's war machine than the German air force is inflicting on essential points in Britain.

In Berlin German military authorities decreed today that until further notice no military news of any kind may be sent from Berlin between 11 p.m. and 6 a.m. (1 p.m. to 8 p.m. P.S.T.). Berlin correspondents have been required to sign a pledge not to violate this order. The new curtailment of the activities of the overseas press follows by a week a ban by Nazi authorities on transmission of details as to the duration of British air raids on Berlin. Correspondents also were forbidden to send news while raids are in progress.

Soviet Impressed By R.A.F. Attacks

(The increasing scale of offensive action by the Royal Air Force against Germany was emphasized last night in the Moscow radio review of military events of last week: "Massive blows have been struck against industrial centres in northern, southern, western and central Germany and notably Berlin," the Soviet observer said.)

Two air raids on Berlin, damaging blows elsewhere in Germany and a foray into northern Italy demonstrated last night to both ends of the axis the Royal Air Force's "gathering strength," the Air Ministry news service said today.

One R.A.F. dive-bomber scored a direct hit which set fire to an undisclosed but "important" target "in the very heart of Berlin," it said.

Another British pilot, it added, reported what he thought was a hit on a "large warship."

R.A.F. formations were reported also to have blasted the Krupp armament works, oil refineries, naval docks and wharves in Germany.

In northern Italy, the report said, they battered factories on a 1,600-mile nonstop flight, to Turin and Milan which entailed crossing and recrossing the Alps.

Both Ends of Axis Get Shattering Blows

"Both ends of the Rome-Berlin axis had a foretaste of the gathering strength of the Royal Air Force last night," the news service said, "when the capital of the German Reich and two of Italy's great industrial centres were simultaneously attacked by aircraft of the bomber command."

"Berlin was twice raided during the night, the first attack beginning just before 10 p.m., and the last ending shortly after 4 this morning," the Air Ministry news service reported.

"Thick ground haze over the German capital made the targets somewhat difficult to locate. After nearly half an hour had been spent in cruising above the target area under constant heavy fire, the great railway yard of Guter Moabit, about 1 1/4 miles to the north of the Tiergarten, was seen glinting in the moonlight and attacked with high explosives and incendiary bombs.

"Hits were seen to have been scored on sidings and five fires were started by flaming incendiaries."

Following raiders bombed objectives near the centre of the city and an industrial target in a northwestern suburb. Bomb-aimers could see their bombs bursting on the targets.

"At 3 this morning, nearly two hours after the first raid had ended, Berliners again were startled by heavy calibre bombs."

The second attack had begun.

Important Target Straddled With Bombs

"Attacking in a shallow dive, the pilot of one heavy bomber held on his course under a barrage of anti-aircraft and machine gun fire until he was within 2,000 feet of the rooftops of Berlin."

"A stick of heavy bombs released at the bottom of the dive fell dead across an important objective in the very heart of the city, straddling it from southeast to northwest and setting part of it on fire."

"Another raider, attacking a target in the same vicinity, set fire to a large building, while the Putzstrasse and Lehrter railway yards and goods (freight) sidings at Charlottenburg, one of the chief residential areas of Berlin, were also heavily attacked."

"Fires started by incendiary bombs were still burning when the last of the raiders left the city soon after 4 o'clock in the morning."

Britons Told Offensive Coming

This emphasis on growing British air might coincided with predictions by two cabinet members that Britain soon may be waging offensive war and with stepped-up attacks on the Nazi-held "invasion" coast.

"The day we can take the offensive approaches steadily," Colonial Secretary Lord Lloyd declared in Glasgow.

"We have to carry this fight into the enemy's fields. We must not find ourselves up against a position of stalemate," declared A. V. Alexander, First Lord of the Admiralty.

To Britons their words stirred 135-year-old echoes of Lord Nelson, who laid down his life at the battle of Trafalgar, October 21, 1805, to secure this island kingdom from the forces of another continental conqueror massed, then as now, across the Channel.

It was that battle off the Spanish coast 135 years ago today which smashed Napoleon's fleets and set the stage eventually for Waterloo.

As the minister spoke, German guns were pounding the Dover shores, presumably in reply to the 100-bomb-a-minute air raid last night on the same bases across from England where Napoleon's barges were massed.

The severity and breadth of the raid, in which British warships and land guns also were believed to have joined, could be recognized on this side of the Channel today.

Long after the sun had risen, a red glow resembling a great prairie fire could be seen plainly

They Invaded Britain—and Landed in Prison

Soon after Britain's startling announcement last week that Nazi invasion of the British Isles had in fact already been attempted, on September 16, this photo was cabled from London. British censor states that Nazi soldiers are pictured in London on way to prison camp after their capture in invasion attempt which R.A.F. thwarted. (Cablephoto).

THEY'LL DROP NO MORE BOMBS ON ENGLAND—A British officer checks information on two captive German fliers (centre), members of a Nazi bomber shot down in the outskirts of London.

across the water. It stretched in an unbroken line for miles and gave the impression that a great part of the French coast not only was in ruins but also still was blazing fiercely.

The glow was visible through the Channel haze up to noon. The result of an "avalanche" of deadly steel.

Britain has more planes available for operation than ever before, Lord Beaverbrook, Minister of Aircraft Production, told newsmen today, but added: "I am still not satisfied."

The minister was not bemoaning the speed of production. He meant that he is not going to be satisfied until the sky is swarming with British aircraft. He said that from the time he took over the ministry he had made up his mind that he would not be satisfied until production reached this peak, but added:

"I feel a lot more comfortable about our condition than last June."

He paid tribute to the plant output of Canada, but said: "This is sort of apocalyptic at present. Britain is still getting a 'good flow' of planes from the United States," he said, adding there is "no reason to expect" that winter will force a postponement of ferrying bombers across the Atlantic.

The War Today

By H. M. PETERS

Prime Minister Churchill in a broadcast in English and French this evening again assured all that their eventual freedom depends on defeat of Nazi Germany by the ever-growing strength of the British Empire and its allies.

A short time before, his successor as First Lord of the Admiralty, A. V. Alexander, declared Britain is daily "convoying our ships, our troops and our supplies to theatres of war in which the victory will be driven home."

ARMY EXPANDS

That appeared to mean among other things that Sir Archibald Wavell's Middle East command is constantly growing more formidable in anticipation of renewed Mediterranean activity at the close of the rainy season about the year-end. There were indications of Arab indignation over the Italian action during the week-end in bombing oil refineries at Bahrain Island in the Persian Gulf. To get there, the four Italian planes participating crossed neutral territory of the Arabian Peninsula, flying near Mecca, the Arab holy place. The Bahrain raid, stated by Cairo to have been minor in its results, was but one incident in a week-end of constant explosions of aerial bombs.

NO NIGHT NEWS

Berlin was again heavily attacked, and harassed officials there forbade the dispatch of war news at night to prevent unauthorized details of destruction getting out to the world. Northern Italy's industrial sections were smashed anew and the Press Association said that R.A.F. bombers dropped 15,000 bombs on the "invasion" ports across the Channel within a few hours.

Understandable secrecy continued to surround the mission to Egypt of Anthony Eden, British War Secretary. The Italians claimed to have heard he is offering some Italian possessions in Africa to Egypt and Turkey after the war.

HELD AS SPY—A West Point and University of California graduate, Capt. Rufe Romero, above, is being held in Manila on charges he plotted to sell copies of a confidential military document to Japanese.

MELBOURNE (AP)—Councilor Frank Beaurepaire, former world champion swimmer who represented Australia at the Olympic games three times, today was elected Lord Mayor of Melbourne. Mr. Beaurepaire is chairman of the Olympic Tire Rubber Company, which recently pioneered the manufacture of rubber-insulated cable in Australia.

Raids Bring Arrest

MONTREAL (CP)—Combined forces of Royal Canadian Mounted Police, provincial police and Montreal city police, arrested one man and seized a large quantity of Communist literature in a series of week-end raids. It was announced this afternoon. Most of the literature was written in the Ukrainian, Polish and Russian languages.

Crash Explained

BRANDON, Man. (CP)—Royal Canadian Air Force officials said here this afternoon there would be no inquiry into the crash of an Avro-Saxon bomber in a forced landing near here. Six crew members escaped injury when the plane hit a cement mixer yesterday.

50,000 in Training

MELBOURNE (AP)—In 45 camps across Australia, 50,000 militia men are at present undergoing 70 days' military training, most of them compulsory.

To See Victorians Training in East

Robert W. Mayhew, M.P., will leave Victoria on Wednesday night for Ottawa to attend the opening of the House of Commons on November 5. He is leaving early in order to visit a number of centres where Victoria sailors, soldiers and airmen are stationed.

He will first go to Halifax, N.S., to look up local boys who are serving there with the navy.

"I hope to get them together for a chat. I'll take them a little news from home," said Mr. Mayhew.

He will then go to the centre where the 1st Battalion, Canadian Scottish Regiment, is training, and he will meet the officers and men.

"I intend to check up on reports that have come back about conditions in the camp," said Mr. Mayhew. "If they're as bad as what some of the letters say I think I should know about them."

Then Mr. Mayhew will travel to the area where the Petrol Company is training and later visit Trenton and St. Thomas, where many Victoria boys are with the R.C.A.F.

"I am very pleased to carry messages from any relatives or friends in Victoria to the boys who are now serving with the forces in the east," said Mr. Mayhew.

"I'm afraid I won't be able to take parcels," he added.

Fishermen Quit

VANCOUVER (CP)—William Burgess, secretary of the United Fishermen's Federal Union, announced today that all of the Union's 300 herring seine fishermen along the British Columbia coast have been ordered to stop fishing pending outcome of price negotiations with cannery.

'Invader' Drowned

A SOUTHEAST COAST TOWN, England (CP)—The body of a German infantryman believed to have been one of Hitler's "invasion troops" washed ashore at a small Kent seaside resort at the weekend, it was learned tonight. Experts said the body had been in the sea five or six weeks.

'Rock' Impregnable

VANCOUVER (CP)—Any Axis attempt to storm the British stronghold of Gibraltar is doomed in advance, in the opinion of Dr. Bertram Thomas, explorer. "At present it is impregnable and could withstand siege for at least 10 years," he told the Canadian Club here today.

Killing Schuschnigg

TORONTO (CP)—Hans Rott, Austrian minister of social affairs under Kurt von Schuschnigg who arrived in Toronto with his family recently, said today that the Nazis' torture has almost blinded the former Austrian Chancellor, and that eventually they will kill him with torture when it suits their purpose.

Jugoslavia's Stand

BELGRADE (AP)—Premier Dragisa Cvetkovic warned Yugoslavia this evening against being drawn into "misadventure" and promised to continue "friendly relations" with the Axis partners.

IS 'CADDY' DEAD? ODD HEAD FOUND

Pedestrians along Dallas Road yesterday afternoon wondered if Cadborosaurus, Victoria's famed sea serpent, had died.

There on the seawall at Ross Bay was the strangest-looking skull any of them had ever seen. It was huge and white, like ice or wax. It wasn't bone, it was gristle. The massive head was fished out of the water by Harold and Sam Clark, 414 Durban Street; Bob Marsh, 1352 Carnesew Street, and Stanley Cornock, 1715 Stanley Avenue.

They used the branch of a tree to take it from the choppy sea. Then they took off their shoes and socks, rolled their trousers high and walked in to recover part of the jaw bone.

This morning they took their prize to the Provincial Museum and presented it to Dr. G. C. Carl, acting director, who admitted he was baffled.

"We think it's a killer whale, but we're not sure. It was pretty badly broken up," he said.

It was put into a preservative at the museum and will be sent to Dr. Ian McT. Cowan, former biologist at the museum and now lecturing at the University of British Columbia.

Hanson to Go

PENTICTON, B.C.—Statement of Howard Green, M.P., in his speech before the Conservative convention here to the effect that the party would have to prepare to choose a new federal leader early next year are interpreted to mean that party rank and file have now determined that present leader R. B. Hanson must go. They have been forced to this conclusion by Mr. Hanson's breaks in his Toronto exhibition and Charlottetown speeches. Mr. Green has been one of Mr. Hanson's chief lieutenants in the House.

Nazis Pursue Hit-run Tactics

LONDON (CP)—Anti-aircraft guns opened up a deafening barrage in the London area when darkness fell on the capital tonight after earlier sporadic firing.

The barrage signalled the return of Nazi raiders to the city after a day they had devoted largely to scattered hit-and-run attacks on Britain.

Alarms sounded twice in London during the morning. Two bombs fell in the capital just before the sirens shrieked the first time. The throb of the invaders' motors was heard during the second alarm.

In the first raid, the Germans again sent over fast, single-engined planes to run the anti-aircraft fire in ones and twos.

At times the barrage was as heavy as during some of the biggest night raids. Batteries thundered along the Thames Estuary, trying to pick off invading planes dodging low to take cover among clouds on that aerial highway to London.

Liverpool also was a target of the daylight raiders.

The Air Ministry issued the following communique: "A number of single enemy aircraft crossed the south coast this morning and flew towards London. A small number also penetrated to the Midlands and the northeast.

These activities were repeated in a small scale this afternoon. Bombs were dropped in the London area, mostly in the outskirts. Some houses were hit and a block of flats damaged. The number of casualties is small, but includes some persons killed."

"A factory was damaged in Manchester and some further damage was done at several points on the Channel coast. Casualties were nowhere large in number but some persons were killed."

Bucharest Blacked Out

Turkey Sends Army to Dardanelles

BUDEPEST (AP)—Reports that Soviet Russian-Turkish military talks had been instituted and that Turkish military preparation was increasing along the strategic East, were heard today in the Balkans.

At the same time, Rumania inaugurated a blackout for Bucharest and the nearby oil fields.

Travelers from Turkey said in Athens that railway lines to Adrianople, a Turkish city in territory wedged between the Bulgarian and Greek borders, were jammed with troop trains, while half a million Turkish troops were said to be already in the region of the Dardanelles.

A rumor that Soviet-Turkish military talks were under way in Adrianople was carried by the Budapest newspaper Magyar Nemzet, while other unconfirmed reports said the Turks were building new fortifications and communications.

Counter-moves By Britain

The Turkish press, predicting the Axis would attempt its next push in the Near East, played up British manoeuvres to counter such a drive.

Bucharest, the once-gay capital of Rumania, and the rich Ploesti oil fields nearby were blacked out last midnight under new regulations.

All theatres must close at 11:30 p.m. and cafes at midnight. Penalties carry fines ranging from $14 to $1,000 and sentences of from 15 days to two months in jail.

Despite warlike talk, however, most Balkan observers felt it unlikely that an Axis campaign was in the offing and that only strong diplomatic action could be expected for the time being.

Ministers Meet In Istanbul

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—Sir Ronald Ian Campbell, British minister to Yugoslavia, today went to Istanbul, where he presumably is to participate in a conference with the British ambassador to Turkey and the British ministers to Bulgaria and Greece.

His departure caught political observers by surprise since it was at first believed the Istanbul conference would be limited to Turkey and Greece because of strong German influence in Yugoslavia.

It was believed Sir Ronald would confer in Istanbul with Sir Hugh Knatchbull-Hugessen, ambassador to Turkey. Sir Charles Palaret, minister to Greece, and George Rendel, minister to Bulgaria.

Dishonorable Peace Rejected By Turks

ISTANBUL (AP)—The Turkish press reiterated today its previous challenges to Germany's ambitions in southeastern Europe and also commented bitterly on Bulgaria's attitude as reflected in Sofia newspapers.

Turkey wants peace, said an editorial in Yeni Sabah, but a bitter struggle is preferred to "peace gained dishonorably."

The editorial criticized an editorial in the Sofia newspaper Mir, which argued that German victory is inevitable and urged that small nations capitulate without resistance.

"Mir suggests such a common, humble, low course that it dishonors the Bulgarian pride and patriotism we have learned to know," Yeni Sabah continued. "There is no Turk who would not agree with Hitler that people who do not defend their country's independence with all their vigor should be looked down upon."

Germany Seen As Russia's Enemy

An editorial written for the newspaper Tan by Sadru Ertem, a deputy in the National Assembly, stated:

"Germany has become Russia's greatest enemy. The tripartite pact aims openly at substituting the Fascist world order for the Soviet world revolution as a world ideology."

Ertem argued there is no possibility of a British-Soviet military agreement, and, therefore, no need for Germany to hold the Dardanelles, strategic Turkish gateway from the Black Sea to the Aegean and Mediterranean.

The newspaper Akşam, recalling German troops arrived on the scene in Bucharest to "gain" Rumanian troops right after the Hitler-Mussolini Brenner Pass conference, suggested Italy's mission to "train" Greek and Yugoslav troops may also have been decided on in that talk.

'Pardon Me, Dear'

Other papers featured Italian reports indicating increased axis pressure on Greece and Yugoslavia to support that suggestion.

ROME (AP)—After a lightning inspection of Italian troops near the Yugoslav frontier, Premier Mussolini returned to Rome today amid ominous Balkan rumblings and renewed Fascist propaganda attacks on Greece and Turkey.

While Mussolini, piloting his own plane, was speeding to three northern towns to visit his armed forces for the second time in the last few weeks, Virginio Gayda, authoritative Fascist editor, charged that Greece and Turkey "are dangerously mixed up in insidious British policy."

But he added: "It is their affair and does not concern the Axis."

During his troop inspection yesterday, Mussolini visited units at Ronchi del Leggeri, Sappiano and San Pietro di Carso. Recently he spent five days with troops in the vicinity of Padua.

No Appeasing of Japan

Firm British-U.S. Stand on Orient Oil

LONDON (CP)—Authoritative sources declared today that Britain "certainly is not taking an appeasing attitude" toward Japan in the issue of the Netherlands East Indies' oil resources and intimated strongly that Anglo-American consultations have been held on Japan's oil problem.

These sources reiterated that the British government has contracted for all the Netherlands East Indies' output of high octane gasoline, used for aviation fuel, and said they have no new information concerning Japanese Netherlands negotiations over this production.

Asked whether the United States and Britain were discussing an embargo on low grade oil, these sources said: "Under the present happy relations we have discussed everything from cabbage to kings—so we would not exclude this subject." The informants added they had no exact information, however, as to such discussions.

Shell Chairman Flies to New York

This statement was made while Lord Bearsted, chairman of Royal Dutch Shell, was flying by clipper to New York on what he called "urgent business." Shell has vast interests in the Netherlands East Indies' oil industry.

There is no "official restraint" preventing British oil companies selling to Japan, as in the United States, where there is an embargo on high octane gasoline. But informants here enumerated several reasons why, "so far as we know, none of this is getting to Japan from British sources."

The first is that "we need it all for ourselves." British companies, they added, "have no sympathy for Japan" and, furthermore, the British government "is their biggest customer and it happens to have cash."

Although sale of low grade gasoline and oil is not banned either, they said they are unable to tell whether any is being sold to Japan. They declared it is the British government's custom TRUCKS BOLL ALONG BURMA ROAD—Munitions and other supplies are being rushed to Gen. Chiang Kai-shek's army now that China's lifeline has been reopened. The Japanese forces are attempting to block the road. A Hongkong dispatch today said Japanese claimed naval warplanes had damaged vital bridges spanning the Lantsang River. The invaders said scores of trucks "were seen scattering in various directions in order to avoid destruction" by the bombers.

not to "interfere with normal commercial practices," but emphasized the importance of "unofficial pressure."

Japanese Envoy Return From Batavia

BATAVIA, Netherlands East Indies (CP)—Ichizo Kobayashi, special envoy from Japan at the head of the delegation engaged in economic negotiations with the Netherlands East Indies, will return tomorrow to Tokyo.

Negotiations will be continued by other members of the delegation.

They said Kobayashi's presence in Japan was urgently needed and denied as "quite untrue" reports abroad that the trade talks had been broken off. Kobayashi is Japan's minister of commerce.

The Netherlands East Indies' oil production is a vital interest of the Japanese, particularly because of anxiety in Japan over the possibility of a complete oil embargo on United States oil shipments to Japan, but there was no confirmation of a report published by the newspaper Asahi in Tokyo that an agreement had been concluded here governing East Indian oil exports to Japan.

(In Tokyo it was stated Kobayashi would consult the government there on trade talks. Nothing was said to be known of any failure or breakdown in Batavia negotiations and Tokyo newspapers, in Batavia dispatches, have reported progress consistently.)

out portfolio, declared here that Britons "now are able to talk straight to Japan in a way that would have been dangerous four months ago."

Britain, he said in a speech, "is stronger than when there was the first impact of attack," but it still would be dangerous to assume she is "out of the woods."

"I am hoping Japan will not be so foolish as to enter the struggle. But neutral countries know now that Britain is not about to be hustled and humiliated and beaten as the neutral countries may have thought some months ago."

PYRENEES FLOODS CAUSE 300 DEATHS

VICHY (AP)—More than 100 persons were reported dead or missing today and officials estimated damage of a billion francs as a result of torrential rains and floods which forced thousands to flee their homes in French Catalonia.

(The franc no longer is quoted but before the German occupation of Paris it ranged from 1.73 cents to 2.26 cents this year.)

Details of the week-end disaster became known in Vichy only today as telephonic communication with Perpignan, capital of the stricken region, was restored. Perpignan itself had been evacuated when the swollen river Tet inundated the lower parts of the city. Prefectural authorities there estimated 100 dead or missing in Pyrenees-Orientals department alone.

(In Spanish Catalonia, 128 persons have been officially reported missing or dead as a result of floods. Heavy rains continued to hamper the rescue work there.)

(Eleven persons drowned in high waters resulting from a cloudburst in the Cagliari province of Italy, on the island of Sardinia.)

and six German soldiers were killed.
(The plane, reports from Vichy said, plunged down in a severe storm while en route from North Africa to France, and several of the bodies were washed on the north African shore. News of the accident was the first received that members of the armistice commission were in North Africa.)

In some cases the cornea tissue from the eyes of dead persons is transplanted by surgery to restore sight to living persons.

London, Midlands Targets of Night Bombers

LONDON (CP)—Reports from last night's air raid on London disclosed that a number of persons, including some children, were killed when a bomb hit a line of shelters in a working class district.

A direct hit on the children's ward of a London hospital was disclosed. Although a number of children were in the building, no serious casualties were reported.

A woman was trapped in the wreckage of one house hit by a bomb. Another explosion nearby broke a gas main.

Observers in London said the 44th consecutive overnight attack seemed comparatively light.

2 Nazi Planes Destroyed

An Air Ministry and Ministry of Home Security communique said:

"The enemy's main attacks during the hours of darkness were directed again the London area and the Midlands. Both commenced soon after dusk.

"The attack on London ceased in the early hours of the morn-

15,000 Bombs Smash Invasion Ports

R.A.F. Bombers Blast Northern Italy, Berlin

LONDON (CP)—An air raid on Nazi-held coastal bases opposite Great Britain, possibly supported by shell fire from long-range guns and warships, paced a far-flung British counter-offensive today which extended to Berlin and northern Italy.

The repeatedly bombed bases again bore the brunt of the overnight attack in which the Press Association estimated an "avalanche" of at least 15,000 bombs were dropped in two and a half hours.

The resumption of R.A.F. raids on points in northern Italy was announced today in the following Air Ministry communique:

"Last night Royal Air Force bombers carried out extensive operations ranging from Berlin to northern Italy.

"Targets were attacked in both these areas, as well as other parts of Germany.

Flashes Seen Across Channel

"Attacks were also made on the invasion ports."

The blasting of the Channel ports, where invasion threats continued to lurk in prolonged mild weather and reports of Nazi activity, started shortly after dusk last night.

Observers said the brilliant flashes and loud explosions indicated that possibly British coastal batteries and warships in the Channel joined in the bombardment.

Earlier in the day British and German gunners fought a heavy gun duel across the strait.

The Press Association said the rumble of terrific explosions rolled up and down the Channel like thunder in the night attack.

Earlier, the Admiralty announced that British fliers penetrated north of the Arctic Circle for an attack on a German sea-plane base at Tromsø, Norway.

Berlin Showered With Incendiaries

BERLIN (AP)—Waves of Royal Air Force bomber planes droye thousands of Berliners to air raid shelters early today for the first time in five nights.

Despite heavy anti-aircraft fire, R.A.F. planes flew over the centre of the city. Bright moonlight penetrated a slight haze and searchlights were used sparingly.

Four explosive bombs and a shower of incendiary bombs were reported dropped.

The Nazis claimed anti-aircraft batteries shot down one bomber en route to the capital and another in Berlin.

Lull in Raids On Italy Ended

ROME (CP)—British bombers attacked northern Italian cities early today for the first time since the night of September 5-6, when Turin was bombed.

A high command communique today said:

"Air raids from the direction of Switzerland were carried out by the enemy over towns of northern Italy.

"A civilian dwelling and a charitable institution where 60 orphans and 150 indigents were living were damaged at Verona. In all there were three dead and 12 wounded.

"In Pavia province two houses were demolished, causing four deaths and injuring one.

"In Alessandria province three buildings were damaged, causing one death and injuries to two, one of whom is serious.

"In the village of Borgo Verelli, near Savona, small fires were caused in woods, the parish church was seriously damaged and nearby houses were slightly damaged without harm to persons. In two other places bombs dropped in open country."

Dealing with operations on the fronts in Africa, the communique said:

"Enemy planes dropped bombs at Decimere, killing one person and wounding 11 among the native population and causing some damage to sheds. They also dropped bombs on Asmara, Gura, Agordat and Massawa without consequences.

Alarm at Berne As Planes Fly Over

BERNE, Switzerland (AP)—An air-raid alarm was sounded

last night in Berne for the first time in several weeks.

(Aid raid alarms in Switzerland in the past have indicated that British bombers were flying in nearby skies to or from raids on northern Italy's industrial centres.)

Germans Claim Oil Tanks Fired

BERLIN (AP)—The German high command's communique today said:

"Light battle plane units yesterday carried out retaliatory attacks on the British capital and other cities in southern and central England. Dock and port facilities, as well as vital supply centres were successfully bombed.

"Fires visible from afar resulted from raids on big tank concentrations, at Thameshaven. In the course of the day and night several air fights developed which we won. During the night, heavy combat units increased their raids on London, dropping a large quantity of bombs of all calibres and causing numerous new conflagrations and heavy destruction on both sides of the Thames.

"Armament plants in central England and port facilities on the British west coast also were effectively bombed.

"Already reported, heavy artillery of the army and navy shelled two big enemy merchantmen in Dover harbor. Ships and port facilities were covered by several salvos, causing severe destruction.

"In response, one enemy long range battery fired a few shots across the English Channel without damage.

Bombs Damage U.S. Embassy

Windows were smashed in the United States' big new embassy building on Grosvenor Square in a recent Nazi air raid, but the red brick, white-trimmed colonial structure was not badly damaged and no member of the staff was injured.

A German plane laid a stick of bombs across the big square in London's fashionable West End. One demolished a house, damaged two others across the square and blew in a few windows of the embassy.

Another bomb, failed to explode immediately, but dug itself a deep pit about 50 feet from the front door. It went off a few hours later, blasted more windows and hurled soil and stones on the roof and against the front wall.

The inside was not damaged and a spokesman said today: "We're still open for business."

Blast Near Y.M.C.A. Kills 10 Persons

Ten persons were killed in the same raid when a German bomb crashed near the Y.M.C.A. headquarters in Great Russell Street, blasting out doors and windows and blowing down inside partitions. Between 400 and 500 members sheltered in the gymnasium were not hurt.

Although the outside walls were not badly damaged, officials said they would not be able to use the building again until after the war.

Lord Lothian, British ambassador home from the United States to consult with his government, said the fortitude of London under steady attack had made a "tremendous impression" in America.

Damage Heavy Saturday Night

High explosive bombs dropped by raiders in the heaviest early-evening assault since the siege of Britain began killed a number of Londoners Saturday night and caused severe damage in the capital.

Raiders also were over the Midlands and the northwest.

The Royal Air Force gave Germany's "invasion coast" a severe drubbing Saturday night in a rolling attack which shook houses along the Kent shore.

In addition, although weather conditions over Germany were unfavorable, the R.A.F. bombers got through to attack a railway goods yard in Germany and a Nazi-occupied airdrome in north Holland. However, the Air Ministry announced that operations generally were on a reduced scale, due to the weather.

Churchgoers Driven From Streets

The German bombers began their attack early last night, quickly following up daylight raids during which five alarms were sounded in London, driving church crowds and autumn strollers from the streets. There was a short lull after midnight, but the bombers came back again until shortly before dawn.

1805 and 1940

THERE WERE NO PARADES IN LONDON today. Nelson did not look down on crowds in Trafalgar Square as he has been wont for many years. But there were wreaths at the foot of his column. Navy League officials were on hand to place them there. They were accompanied by a few descendants of the tars of the ships commanded by the hero who stopped Napoleon's invasion 135 years ago. These Britons, however, were far from dismayed by the fact that the honors were not being done in traditional fashion. To cheer them as they walked through the rain, nevertheless, was the knowledge that a corporal from Corsica of another day had found her. When they deposited their garlands, saluted the memory of the great sailor who changed the course of history in 1805, they may have speculated on the future. Would this landmark, familiar to millions the world over, the subject of story and song, withstand the daily visitations of the ships of the 1940 imitation of the other figure in history who dreamed of invasion—who failed miserably?

We are constrained to repeat here the important message which the man who met his Waterloo nearly nine years afterward transmitted to the Imperial Senate in Paris on November 19, 1806, when his dreams of invasion had been shattered. These are the words Napoleon used then: "Senators, We wish in the circumstances in which the general affairs of Europe are involved, to make known to you and to the nation, the principles which we have adopted as the rule of our Policy. . . . A great number of the Cabinets of Europe are sooner or later influenced by England, and without solid peace with that Power, our people cannot enjoy the benefits which are the prime objective of our labors and the unique object of our life. . . . So Napoleon, too, announced a "total blockade" of Britain—the Britain who refused to recognize his hegemony of Europe, just as she refuses to recognize the conquests of the modern "little corporal." In 1805, and after, England expected "that every man will do his duty." He did; he is doing it again against the same threat.

Disraeli and Churchill

WHEN MR. ROOSEVELT ASSURED Canada at Kingston in the summer of 1939 that the United States would not stand idly by while this country was attacked by another empire, he not only reaffirmed a basic American defence policy as far as this hemisphere is concerned; he rekindled official British interest in the traditional association between the United Kingdom and the New World. That observation—a definite warning to Hitler after he had consummated Anschluss with Austria—on Canadian soil, however, must have begun a new train of thought among those far-seeing British statesmen who refused to be blinded by the "comforting" blandishments of a palpably untrustworthy man. And it has remained for a reader of the Times of London to write to that journal to recall Disraeli's prophecy of 1859—after his weak reform bill had contributed largely to the defeat of the Tory government of the Earl of Derby and the advent of the Liberal administration under Viscount Palmerston. Here is a part of the reminder:

"Remember always that England, though she is bound to Europe by tradition, by affection, by great similarity of habits and all those ties which time alone can create and consecrate, is not a mere Power of the Old World. Her geographical position, her laws, her language, and her religion, connect her as much with the New World as with the Old. . . . We are bound to the communities of the New World, and those great States which our own planting and colonizing energies have created, by ties and interests which will sustain our power and enable us to play as great a part in the times yet to come as we do in these days, and as we have done in the past. And . . . I say it is for Europe, not for England, that my heart sinks."

Well may Mr. Churchill reiterate that last sentence. Well may he, too, take credit for a gesture of principle which in recent months has begun to take shape in practice. Was it not the descendant of a Marlborough who proposed union with a France in extremis—who has since stretched out the hand of co-operation to that part of the New World which had balked largely in the Disraelian vision of the middle of the last century? But those "ties and interests" to which the man who did much to strengthen Britain's prestige abroad—at a time when Winston Spencer Churchill was cutting his first teeth—already have assumed a significance which eventually should contribute usefully to the reconstruction of democracy and the peaceful rehabilitation of the whole world.

Whistling For Courage

EVEN WITH A WORLD AT WAR THERE have been occasions in recent months when energetic newspaper correspondents have selected "odds in the news" for publication. We have discovered for ourselves two such items in cable dispatches from Berlin and Rome.

The dispatch from the Nazi capital inquires the world that German authorities have deemed that until further notice no military move of any kind may be made out from that city between 11 p.m. and 6 a.m. Correspondents have been required to sign a pledge not to violate this order. Only a week ago, incidentally, no details as to the duration of British air raids were permitted on the wires from Berlin.

The dispatch from Rome announces that Saturday's bombing of Bahrain Island, a neutral principality in the Persian Gulf, "was carried out in the hope it would create anti-British feeling in India." Says the Italian news agency: "The Italian Air Force reached clear to the gateway of English India, where the population's ferment against the dominating nation is increasing daily," and "the air action against Bahrain will have world repercussions."

Berlin's warning to newspaper correspondents to mind their "p's" and "q's" about the transmission of military news from the Reich capital furnishes its own commentary: Bombers of the Royal Air Force, apparently out of sheer cussedness, continue to drop their "sticks" of explosives in an area that portly Hermann Goering assured the German people would never be subjected to such unseemly annoyance.

Italy's propagandists for some time, of course, have outdone the hirelings of the Herr Doktor Goebbels in their downright originality. But even Mussolini's shadow writer, Signor Virginio Gayda, would scarcely plead guilty to such an oddity as that which suggests an attempt to bring death and destruction to a point near "English India" would arouse a population of 330,000,000 to welcome the axis philosophy—because it would mean complete independence from Britain.

'Step By Step' Continued

NINE MONTHS AGO, SATURDAY, JANUARY 20, to be precise, Mr. Winston Churchill, First Lord of the Admiralty at that time, delivered a radio broadcast during which he warned the neutral states of Europe that the only hope for a speedy end of the struggle was "through united action." The speech met a chilly reception in some of the capitals of the countries he had in mind. On the following Monday, moreover, an unnamed British spokesman hinted to the world at large that the navy chief's remarks should be regarded as a "fireside talk" by a cabinet minister and not a considered statement of government policy. "In the meantime, however," said we in part in these columns on the same day, "Mr. Churchill's 'fireside talk' will be regarded as an interpretation of what people are thinking." And let us consider anew some of the observations to which the present Prime Minister gave voice on that Saturday evening which now seems so long ago. Take the following:

"Look at the group of small but ancient and historic states which lie in the north. Or look again at that other group of anxious peoples in the Balkans or in the Danube basin, behind whom stands the resolute Turk. Every one of them is wondering tonight who will be the next victim on whom the criminal adventures of Berlin will cast their menacing stroke."

It was not difficult at that time to understand why Denmark, Sweden and Norway, like Belgium and Holland, did not feel in the mood to greet with jubilation the implied invitation which Mr. Churchill extended to them in their own best interests. They had seen what had happened to Helmsingfors and a dozen other Finnish communities; they had witnessed, too, the inspiring resistance with which Finland had met Soviet Russia's invasion from the air, land and sea. Naturally, therefore, the governments of these neutral states—believing that Germany would live up to her promise and respect their individual and collective territorial and political integrity—thought it unwise to plunge their people into war without definite cause. Hitler's progress according to the gospel of "Mein Kampf" had not convinced them that Nazi philosophy took no account of diplomatic or political guarantees if such engagements were found to be a nuisance.

Last Saturday's announcement from Belgrade, however, marks the temporary end of those neutral states—those "which lie in the north" and "those in the Balkans or in the Danube basin"—to whom Mr. Churchill addressed his remarks while there was yet time for them to strike a blow for the preservation of that they held most dear. Yugoslavia has followed Rumania, Bulgaria may or may not follow obediently, though Greece does not appear at the moment to be responding to the totalitarian technique. Behind her still "stands the resolute Turk" whose government, people and press have disclosed their intention to fight rather than obey the dicta of the men of Berlin and Rome. And in southeastern Europe may be written an important chapter in Nazi plans which convinced the world that Hitler meant all he said in his book when he invaded Denmark and Norway. Mr. Churchill also knew whereof he spoke last January—just as he did when he wrote his warnings between 1936 and 1939.

SHOOTING PARACHUTISTS

Manchester Guardian
There is indignation among some people because German airmen have been shooting at British pilots as they descended by parachute from damaged airplanes. In the last war, too, pilots used to discuss the ethics of such an act, and British and French pilots for the most part decided that it would be unpardonable and unbecomingly to fire at a man in such circumstances.

The accepted rules of war are quite clear. Everything depends on whether the parachutist will land on his own territory or on ground in possession of the enemy. In the former case he is not in the position of one who has surrendered at point of war but of a fugitive who, if he chooses, will fight again. In that case it is a legitimate act of war to shoot him down. But if the man is coming down on enemy territory he is sure to be taken prisoner, and in that case his surrender ought to be accepted.

Bruce Hutchison SOBERING UP

AGAIN AND AGAIN you will hear what a storekeeper told me in Mansfield, Ohio, "What kind of a world will it be if Britain goes under? We got to trade, don't we, and we can't trade with Hitler. You think this country will see Britain go under if we can stop it? Not much it won't."

You find also, rather to your surprise, that these people expect a sudden development in American foreign policy as soon as the election is over. Everybody in Washington expects that, whoever wins the election—a definite speeding up of aid to Britain. But you hardly realized before that this feeling had percolated so far into the interior of the country. Everybody speaks of it. Even those most opposed to war believe that when the politicians get clear of the election they will begin to move.

The distinct developments within the last 10 days have prompted this general feeling. The first is the draft. The spectacle of 16,000,000 Americans registering last week for compulsory military training in peacetime has sobered the whole nation in a remarkable fashion.

THINKING

HERE IS THE FIRST tangible sign of war for millions of families. Almost for every family in the nation. Their boys are being called up. What they ask themselves, is the next step? It is easy for Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Willkie to say that the formation of a strong army will prevent war, but the humble folks of the farm country and the little midwest towns where I have been are unconvinced and deeply alarmed.

The matron of the jail in an Ohio town told me: "They done called my two brothers, and they gotta go, and it's made me scairt. Where they going to fight? That's what I'd like to know. Why, my Ma is plum off her haid worryin'."

UNPREPAREDNESS

NO USE TRYING to tell her that less than one in 16 of the men registered last week will be called, and that there is no intention of sending them out of the country. These people saw the draft before, in 1917. They have never seen it in peacetime and they cannot believe that it doesn't mean fighting sooner or later. Yet there is no serious objection to the draft. Both political parties have endorsed it. The nation seems to have accepted it, but more than anything it has brought the war home to these people.

It has brought home, too, another great fact, the total unpreparedness of this nation, which, from the British standpoint, is a grave problem. That unpreparedness more than anything keeps America from entering the war and it persuades many of Britain's friends here, men high in the councils of the nation, that it would be unwise and useless to declare war at this stage.

BOCEYMAN

THE SOUND DEVELOPMENT which has brought the urgency of the war into the isolation belt is the crisis in the Far East. Having heard always that these people are utterly isolated from the world, you are astounded to see with what alarm they read about the danger of a clash with Japan.

All the newspapers in the midwest feature the Japanese situation. All the people I have talked to believe that Japan is more likely than Germany to involve America in war. The instinct at work here is a long-standing dislike of Japan, an old feeling now revived, that sooner or later Japan must be stopped before it can dominate the Pacific.

INESCAPABLE

YOU ARE CONVINCED after a trip through the midwest that the American government can go much further in embargoes against Japan with the support of these people, who seem to be ready for a clash in the Orient almost at any moment. Everywhere they are talking about the Burma Road, which they had never heard of three months ago.

Finally you find everywhere the feeling that neither Mr. Roosevelt nor Mr. Willkie are being entirely frank about the war and their intentions. Everywhere you hear that it doesn't matter which is elected, so far as the war is concerned. The policies of both are the same, but what do they mean ultimately? Can they mean anything less than final involvement?

We should be careful not to misunderstand this attitude in the isolation belt. These people don't want war. They are not ready for war. They only feel that some time, somehow, war is inescapable, and they have the thought of it. As Joe Driscoll says, pointing to his river, "she's bound to rise and flood every so often."

SHOWDOWN POSTPONED

THE WAR IS NOW entering its fourth distinct phase. That phase will probably be more bitterly fought than any of those already past. It will bring a showdown, not only between the rival claims of those (like Hitler's General Haushofer), who claim that land power is superior to sea power. But it will force a decision as between Germany and Russia.

The first phase in this war was that in which Hitler's blitzkrieg conquest of Poland was followed by six months of what was not altogether inaccurately called "phony" war. In this stage the main opponents—Britain and Germany—confined their efforts to war for mastery of the seas, the sea ports, and the skies above the seas. Although British planes repeatedly flew high over German factories, on their way to drop leaflets on Berlin, not one single bomb was ever dropped by either side other than on or at sea water.

The real reason, of course, was that on both sides there were leaders who hoped for peace by negotiation.

The great lesson of this first period was that Britain was mistress of the seas quite as effectively as ever in the past and even more effectively than in the last war.

There was no evidence to support the claim that airpower had rendered sea power obsolete.

The net result of the first period might therefore be called a draw. The Nazi advantage on the land, demonstrated by the quick conquest of Poland, was offset by quite as decided British control of the seas.

TRACHERY AND MACHINERY
The second phase of the war, which started with Hitler's surprise invasion of Norway, and ended with his conquest of France, was one of sweeping Nazi success. From April 9 till July 1 Hitler won victories on land as decisive as any leader had ever won in previous history. In effect those victories were to make him temporary master of the whole continental land bloc of Europe even more effectively than Napoleon was master of the same area at the zenith of his career.

In Hitler's conquests there was used only one new military stratagem—landing by parachute troops. His main dependence was on the Editor:—I have just finished reading the editorial page of your issue of Monday, October 7, and your article "57 a Month."

Should you decide at any time to carry this matter further you will find an interesting (and as most civil servants know, true), article on the same subject in the Ottawa Evening Journal of October 12.

Were you to read this article you would find that the amount discussed is $55.80; $60 less 2 per cent National Defence tax and 5 per cent Savings Fund deduction. How you arrived at the figure of $57 I do not know as it is my impression that both of the aforementioned deductions are taken from the salaries of all Dominion civil servants in continuing positions.

That as it may be, I congratulate you on the article and on the generally progressive attitude of your paper.

SAMUEL MACLEAN,
358 Lisgar Street, Ottawa.

(Editor's Note.—Our article set out that 32 per cent of the federal civil servants in Esquimaux received only $57 a month. This applies to married men with families—some middle-aged—as well as youthful beginners. All, however, have passed the Dominion civil service examinations. Many are filling highly responsible posts. Mr. MacLean is right in saying that they actually receive only $55.80 a month. The $57 a month is before the 2 per cent National Defence tax deduction.)

COULDN'T REGISTER HIS GUN

From Fergus News-Record
Three hundred and seventy-five guns were registered in Fergus with Chief J. Foreman. The oldest brought in was 130 years old, but there were many ancient weapons, as well as modern ones. However, it wasn't to be taken for granted that they wouldn't shoot. An old musket was brought in by a farmer. He was asked when it had been fired last and the surprising reply was, "Three months ago." The owner said he still had powder and shot for it and occasionally tried a shot at the blackbirds with it. One man asked if it was necessary to register a gun, no matter whether it would shoot or not. He was told that the regulations made no ex-

NOT PROPAGANDA

From New York Times

Anyone who believes that the anti-Nazi sentiment in this country is due to British propaganda is grotesquely deceived. Our anti-Nazi sentiment has been produced by what the Nazis themselves have done and what they boast they still mean to do. It is as unnecessary to trumpet up a case against Nazism as it would be to frame one against the bubonic plague.

Capital may be destroyed, but it is a thing without life. It can be reproduced, but when human liberties and human lives are destroyed, it is difficult if not impossible to reproduce them within a century.—Daniel J. Tobin, labor leader.

Better English

1. What is wrong with this sentence? "He has proven himself honest."
2. What is the correct pronunciation of "catalepsy"?
3. Which one of these words is misspelled? Dilemma, dilirium, dilatory.
4. What does the word transcript mean?
5. What is the word beginning with ep that means "to abridge"?

Answer
1. Say, "He has proved himself honest." 2. Pronounce ka-tal-pa, first and third a's as in ask unstressed, second a's as in at (not as in tall), accent second syllable. 3. Delirium. 4. A copy of any kind; imitation. "Ignorance makes many men mistake mere transcripts for originals."—Fulter, 5. Epitomize.

DO YOU REALLY KNOW how long it is since your eyes were examined or your present glasses made? Quite likely it's longer than you think! Do come in for a re-examination and be sure that your eyes are still at top efficiency.

Lauds Women Who Work at Canteen in B.C. House

Warm praise of the Canadian women, headed by a former Victorian, who are carrying on canteen work at British Columbia House in London during the air raids, is expressed by Mr. W. A. McAdam, acting Agent-General, in a letter received by friends here this morning. He says in part:

"The ladies in the canteen absolutely refuse to close up during air raids, and although I have suggested that perhaps it might be advisable to close the canteen at, say, six or seven, to enable them to get to their respective homes, this likewise they will not agree to. The result is that we have now made arrangements to provide mattresses, and those who cannot get home sleep in the shelter here."

SERVE 3,000 WEEKLY

"You would be really proud of our canteen, whilst it is small it is undoubtedly the most popular in the West End. We serve about 2,500 to 3,000 weekly. It is a pity we are not able to make it substantially larger, but the space on the lower ground floor will not permit. We have about 86 ladies on our voluntary list, and if anybody is entitled to a medal then it is Mrs. Anderson, who came here from Victoria about six months ago and is in charge of the catering, and her wonderful body of helpers. Yesterday, for instance, they worked straight on without a break from 8 a.m. to 4.30 p.m. They should have changed shifts at 2 o'clock, but owing to the displacement of transportation the afternoon shift was not able to arrive."

The letter notes that the London defences have been very much augmented and "the barrage that meets the invaders is really terrific. We now have mobile A.A. guns on the London streets and their noise, combined with the big guns at well-known centres, really raise hell, but strange to say the public like it."

BRITISH "WONDERFUL"

Mr. McAdam has been a member of the Local Defence Volunteers since its inception and the night before writing, received a call to go to headquarters. "Walking through the streets with the guns going up above and the stuff coming down and no one to talk to was real front line stuff. We were drafted in various areas over the West End which had been damaged and acted as policemen, being relieved about 4 a.m."

In conclusion he says: "I wonder whether the Canadian people really know what this attack on England really means. If they did they would feel it a privilege to take off their coats and make every human effort to assist the Old Country in its fight for freedom. The English people are just wonderful and it makes one proud to be one of them. It is the general feeling here that the sooner our enemies attempt their promised invasion the more satisfied we shall be so that we can really get on with it and get it over."

As the entire proceeds of the function will be devoted to the order's war work, thus did Montreal society retain social graces and customs and combine them with war efforts.

A bugler announced each dance and at the supper hour the beautifully gowned debutantes and their parties all sat together in the centre of the banquet room. At this time a spotlight played on each debutante as her name was announced, and she later received a memento of the ball.

Unity returned from Germany early this year after being mysteriously wounded.

Finland Grateful For Timely Aid Of Red Cross

Testimony to the unconquerable democratic conviction of both England and Finland and their unshakable belief in the outcome of the present struggle was voiced by Mme. de Gripenberg, English-born wife of the Finnish Minister to the Court of St. James, in two addresses given on Saturday. The distinguished visitor was the guest of honor at a tea under the auspices of the Victoria Red Cross in the afternoon at the Empress Hotel, and addressed a capacity audience under the same auspices at the Memorial Hall in the evening. Brig. General J. G. Austin presided at both gatherings.

THANKS CANADA
In Canada primarily to tender thanks for the generous material assistance given to Finland in her hour of trial, Mme. de Gripenberg gave a graphic and intensely moving word picture of the Finns during the Russian invasion, and the films she showed told the terrible story of destruction.

"The Canadian and American Red Cross aid were among the first to reach Finland a few weeks after the war started in Finland," she remarked as she showed films of the welcome supplies arriving there. These included 30 ambulances, 52,000 bales of clothing, 1,000,000 metres of gauze, $172,000, an aeroplane ambulance, food, surgical dressings, dressing gowns, operation socks, pneumonia jackets, socks, gloves, scarfs, skis, medical supplies, serums for inoculation, blankets, furs, surgical instruments, chloroform, wool, leather coats, helmets, boots and shoes, and sleigh skis. Tribute was paid to the Canadians who joined Finland's army as volunteers. These men she invariably recognized when they came to London, by the yellow Finnish boots they wore.

FITTABLE RUSSIANS
A pitying word was also said of the Russians in connection with pictures of ill-clad, half-starved, and poorly-equipped Soviet soldiers taken prisoner or found frozen on the battlefield. Many of these men were illiterate, utterly ignorant of where, whom, or why they were fighting, some to whom Mme. de Gripenberg spoke thinking they were fighting in Spain.

Other films showed the German occupation of Denmark, Norway, Sweden, Holland, Belgium and Northern France, also pictured Finland in the happy days before the war.

FRANCES LONDONER
The speaker attested to the united spirit of Britain and its determination to see this terrible thing through, although they know it will not be easy. She praised the unconquerable spirit of London's poor and expressed the hope that something would be done to ameliorate conditions for them after the war. Hitler's bombing of slums means that we shall at last get rid of these awful dwellings, which are a disgrace to the Empire. We must see to it that we build better after the war. We have got to make democracy work," she added.

Deplores Wastage of Effort in Women's War Work

By GLADYS ARNOLD

OTTAWA.—Mrs. Lillie Beirne of Sydney, Australia, thinks Canadian women are "absolutely wasting" a huge amount of energy, money and sympathy through the way they carry on their war work.

An ardent feminist, widely known in Australia as a lecturer and advocate of social and monetary reform, Mrs. Beirne sees much good in the selfless effort women are making in the war effort. She finds social work like that done by the Victorian Order of Nurses and welfare associations particularly admirable, and she is taking full particulars back to Australia for use there.

But Mrs. Beirne thinks Canadian women are suffering from the "same emotional complexes and lack of effective, co-ordinated action" as women in Australia.

She says she is "thoroughly disgusted" with the tendency in the two dominions for women to do voluntarily great quantities of essential social service work for which men consider it quite natural and right to be paid. This "going into charity" as she calls it is "simply taking over work the government should jolly well do."

Mrs. Beirne thinks many women find organized charity work an easy way to save their conscience.

As she looks at it, women desire nothing better than the system of government Hitler offers unless they are ready to make democracy a reality.

"That means knowing something about the cause, instead of trying to remedy effects," she says. "In my opinion that is the most important thing women have to learn."

Canadian and Australian women were "soft" these days. Unlike the women who campaigned for the right to vote, they were not helping to improve society.

Mrs. Beirne acknowledges there are some great women in Canada. Among others she mentions Miss Agnes Macphail, former U.F.O. Labor member of Parliament for Grey Bruce (Ont.), Mrs. Doris Nielsen, Unity member of Parliament for North Battleford (Sask.), and Miss Salome Hallidson, Social Credit Member of the Manitoba legislature for St. George.

"ROCKETTE" MARRIED—Judy Sammons, only Canadian in the Radio City Rockettes, was married in New York city. The groom is George Markling, Cleveland brewery executive. Judy will still be a "Rockette" after her honeymoon, she said.

The mayor took the salute as the "young defenders" marched past in the rain. The party participated in the religious ceremonies and later inspected the camp. Some of the aldermen remained for luncheon at the officers' mess.

Attending the ceremony in addition to the mayor were Aldermen Archie Willis, R. J. Gadsden, J. A. Worthington, W. H. Davies, D. D. McTavish and W. L. Morgan.

Canada to Retain Link With Vichy

By RIDEAU BANKS

OTTAWA—Parliament Hill observers interpret the shake-up in Canada's diplomatic service on continental Europe as an expedient by means of which the Canadian government achieves a graceful answer to the problem of the relations of the Dominion to the puppet Vichy regime in unoccupied France.

The changes place the Vichy government upon exactly the same footing as the exiled Belgian and Netherlands governments, now taking refuge in London.

Jean Desy, Canadian minister to Holland and Belgium, is "re-called" to Ottawa for consultation—exactly as Col. George V. Vanier, minister to France, was recalled a few weeks ago.

Pierre Duguy, recently first secretary to the Canadian legation in France and at present in London, is to serve as charge d'affaires towards the refugee Netherlands and Belgian governments—and towards the Vichy regime as well.

It has been made clear that French-speaking Canada would resent any hostile attitude towards the government of unoccupied France, especially since the Vatican favors the Petain regime.

THREE ALIKE

The situation is met in practical fashion by treating Holland, Belgium and Vichy alike and withdrawing Canada's foreign ministers from both the Dutch and Belgian and French legations, leaving only the most formal diplomatic link to function in all cases.

Actually, the surviving post of charge d'affaires to the Holland and Belgian governments is only the most nominal sore of office under existing conditions. The position of charge d'affaires to Vichy—operating from London—has little more substance to it, but it serves as a symbol of friendly diplomatic relations between the people of free France and of Canada.

COMMUNICATIONS RESTRICTED

The maintenance of this formal link on Canada's part, furthermore serves to regularize the maintenance by the Vichy government of the French legation in Ottawa. At the last session of Parliament there was a disposition among some M.P.'s to demand cancellation of the French minister's diplomatic status on the grounds of the danger of having a diplomat communicating from Canada to a German-dominated government. So long as Canada maintains diplomatic relations herself, however, no objection can be taken to the presence of a French minister in the capital.

It is understood, furthermore, that both the Canadian authorities and the French minister have agreed upon the extreme delicacy of the situation, and that the Vichy legation is not availing itself of certain privileges of communication that it might claim and exercise in more normal times.

THE government to remedy dissatisfaction that has existed in French-speaking Canada ever since the board's creation, because no French-speaking member has been named to it. Col. Vanier will not only afford the French-speaking Canadians direct representation, but his extensive military knowledge will be of highest value in his new position.

SCOUT NEWS

OAK BAY UNITED

At the Oak Bay United Scout Troop meeting Friday the examination for the Fireman's Badge was held. Major Hunter visited the troop during the evening and presented the bushman's throng to Campbell Warrander. This is the only bushman's throng in the district at the present time. Practice in signalling and first aid was held. The meeting was closed by Duty Patrol Leader Jimmy Kinghorn.

ST. MARY'S TROOP

Meeting of St. Mary's Troop on Friday evening which was attended by about 30 scouts and leaders was opened by Duty Patrol Leader John Jones. Following inspection there was some drill and a game. Instruction was in signalling station work. This was followed by some first aid practice. A week-end hike in the Highland District was held Thanksgiving.

FIRST CATHEDRAL TROOP

The ceremony of enrollment, when the recruit solemnly and publicly affirms his Scout promise for the first time and is received into the great brotherhood of Scouts, was held at First Cathedral headquarters on Friday. The recruit was Gordon Stuart, who was received into the troop in the presence of his fellow Scouts and district commissioner Major Wise. The troop has now reached a full complement, so no recruits will be taken on for the time being. The evening was taken up with instruction in first aid, signalling and tenderfoot tests, and a game of "duster hockey" was enjoyed. The troop will hold a hike on Sunday, in which it will leave headquarters at 8.30 a.m., under sealed orders. The Eagle Patrol will be on duty next week.

THIRD DIVISION HEAD—Brig. E. W. Sanson of Ottawa, above, has been appointed officer commanding the 3rd division, assigned to defence of the Atlantic area. Brig. Sanson will return to Canada from overseas and take over his command at an early date, with the rank of major-general.

HOW TO PLUG OIL WELLS

To the Editor:—Every oilfield worker knows that a fishing job of weeks may result from the dropping of a tool down an oil well. If the managers of the British-controlled oil wells in Rumania wished to prevent Hitler from getting the oil, they could easily drop a few barrow loads of tools, files, etc., down each well and so definitely put it out of business. But apparently some desire him to receive the wells in full producing condition.

CHARLES WALKDEN.

TO SAVE OURSELVES AND CHINA

To the Editor:—It is apparent that the Japanese are inspired by the Axis powers to provoke and annoy Britain in the Far East. Short of war the obvious way to counter such moves is for the democracies to assist China in its struggle against what is now the Axis' third partner. Even if the Japanese were conciliatory towards Britain, such a course would be justified because of Japanese adherence to the Nazi cause. While many demands are made upon us all at this time—and will be made in increasing numbers—it should be possible for us to contribute to a fund to "Save China."

HALLOWEEN DISAPPROVED

From a Correspondent

I have often thought what a useless and disagreeable festival is that of All Hallowe'en. It has such mischievous, annoying and often cruel aspects and is only a remnant of ignorant superstition. Do you not think that it is time for an up-to-date, live, go-ahead young country to banish this witch-riding, hobgoblin humbug?

In medieval times, when there was no source of amusement and the people were filled with dark ignorance, there was some excuse for these foolish pranks. But some one, at some time, must wipe away these irritating and often costly antics. I am not thinking of depriving the young of their jack-o'-lanterns and candle parties, but the community at large must be led to discountenance any illegal act, i.e., the removal of movable property and the general badgering of householders and property owners. In fact the golden rule would settle the matter. Would you care to be the first to start something for which so many people would be grateful? Please do.

Millstream, B.C.

THE MAN BEHIND THE LINES

To the Editor:—Canada has the best army in the world. Give it a 50-50 chance it will lick anything on earth. Why? Because it's a volunteer force, composed of men who weren't scared to go and fight and who won't lose their insides when they come in sight of the enemy. I like the volunteer system.

In your city, there are two highly educated young men. One volunteered as a gunner; the other got a job with a research board. We pay one $1.35 a day; the other gets $3,000 a year. If we are going to have the volunteer system for the front line, why not extend it to the men behind the lines. Give our members of Parliament, the vast army of civil servants, board employees, munition workers a chance to volunteer for service for the duration of the war on army pay and rations. I believe great numbers of them would gladly do so if given the opportunity. Surely all our patriots are not in the front line!

W. W. HART.

PARCELS FOR BRITAIN

To the Editor:—As these premises at 1220 Government Street are rent free and all our services are donated, and furthermore, as we have ample space and more for our own work I have thought it right, in view of the terrible devastation and suffering in England, to give a small measure of co-operation to the Overseas League.

The Overseas League fills a badly-needed link between those who have good overcoats, warm clothing, mufflers, etc., to spare and the tens of thousands of raid victims who will be shivering with cold in temporary shelters; victims of the elements after suffering at the hand of the enemy.

A large packing case has been placed in a vacant room here and has already been once filled to the top and more and has been emptied by Overseas League workers, who take the parcels to their own premises and inspect and carefully pack all suitable articles for shipment to England. We take every possible care to explain to donors that:

1. All donations must be in parcels or boxes.
2. All garments must be scrupulously clean.
3. All garments must be mended if necessary and complete with buttons.

As the shipment to Britain occupies valuable space on ships, every voyage of which is made possible only by the risk of life in their defence by the fighting forces, it is apparent that only high-quality goods can be sent overseas.

The wholehearted co-operation of all portions of the community, irrespective of any club or society affiliations is earnestly requested.

A. H. PEASE,
Honorary Manager.

NOTES AND WELLS

To the Editor:—Canadians are always pleased to welcome visitors to our shores, especially those who emanate from the shores of Great Britain. Victorians are, I feel sure, very pleased to offer such a welcome to a gentleman like Dr. Alfred Noyes. However, when our worthy visitor sees fit to cast aspersions at Mr. H. G. Wells, who is at the present time lecturing on this North American Continent, one must naturally wonder, why? Could it possibly be the bolstering of the minds of Mr. and Mrs. Average Canadian against the "scientific analysis of history in the making," which Mr. Wells is so ably accomplishing?

I am convinced that the mind of modern man displays a versatility far above the admonitions of the old adage, "Shoemaker Stick to Your Last." But when Dr. Noyes attributes "Eternal Values" to poetry and verse, I fear he displays a tendency to accept "shadow" for "reality." Canadians of this western province, especially those enjoying its "relief emollient" are sick, sore and tired, of "shadows" and want the facts as expounded by Mr. Wells.

THE TWO ENGLISH SINGERS

To the Editor:—Will you kindly give space to this letter calling attention to the concert to be given on Tuesday next at the Metropolitan United Church, as the proceeds will be given to the Victoria branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society. The Musical Art Society is sponsoring the concert when the two English singers will be heard in a program of solos and duets, in which last they have reached a degree of perfection rarely attained by singers.

Viola Morris and Victoria Anderson were the proteges of the late Harry Plunkett Greene who discovered the perfect blend of the two voices, and he was mainly responsible for the entrance into the concert field of the two artists who not only have exceedingly fine voices, but who are most charming in every way. Miss Morris and Miss Anderson have sung twice at Buckingham Palace. They have had capacity audiences in many cities and towns in both Canada and the United States, as well as in the old world.

Mr. Luther Marchant of Mills College, California, says of them: "Miss Morris and Miss Anderson are the most delightful singers I have ever heard," and they have appeared a number of times at the college.

They have met with an enthusiastic welcome at Town Hall, New York, and when they have finished their tour of the northwest the singers will go back to fulfill many engagements in the eastern states.

Tickets for the concert may be obtained at Fletcher Bros., and it is to be hoped a capacity audience will greet them Tuesday evening, October 22, at the Metropolitan United Church at 8.30.

"United and Resolved"

RT. HON. WINSTON CHURCHILL

"The British Empire stands invincible . . . Our people are united and resolved as they have never been before . . . with the conviction of final victory burning unquenchable in our hearts." In these ringing words of confidence, Prime Minister Winston Churchill has expressed the fighting spirit of the British people—their grim determination to prosecute this war until tyranny is ended and freedom finally triumphs.

"United and resolved" symbolizes the spirit of nearly four million Canadians banded together for mutual protection through the great co-operative enterprise of life insurance. These good citizens know that life insurance has weathered every storm in the past 100 years—and that it promotes national security and stability.

Fear Parents in Bahrain Bombed

Two small girls at present in Victoria, Josephine and Geraldine Mark, are wondering today how their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mark, fared in Saturday's Italian bombing of the Bahrain Islands, a neutral principality in the Persian Gulf.

The Mark girls are resident pupils at St. Ann's Academy. They were left in Victoria a year ago when their parents returned to the heat of the Bahrain Islands after nearly a year's leave in Victoria. The islands are no place for young girls who must attend school.

Mr. Mark is employed with the Standard Oil Company. Mrs. Mark is a niece of Mrs. George Scott, 476 Swinford Street, Esquimalt.

London dispatches indicated the raid caused no damage and was more likely to result in anti-Italian feeling in the Moslem world.

ROME CLAIMS

ROME (AP)—Stefani, Italian news agency, said the bombing of the Bahreins was carried out in the hope it would create anti-British feeling in India.

"The Italian air force reached clear to the gateway of English India," Stefani asserted, "where the population's ferment against the dominating nation is increasing daily. The air action against Bahrain will have world repercussions."

The Bahrain Petroleum Company, which conducts operations on the island, is described as a firm registered in Canada, which is partly owned by the Standard Oil Company of California and the Texas Corporation.

PROTEST FILED

WASHINGTON (AP)—James Moffett, vice-president of the Standard Oil Company of California, said today he had filed with Sumner Welles, Under-Secretary of State, a protest against the Italian bombing of United States-owned properties of the California-Arabian Standard Oil Company in Arabia.

At San Francisco, officials of Standard Oil Company of California said they had no confirmation of Italian claims that bombing of Bahrain Island had started fires in oil fields and refineries.

They had received but one cable, officials said, in which they were informed the only damage was the breaking of a water line and an oil line. They had no report of any fire being started.

BRITONS PAYING NEW PURCHASE TAX

LONDON (CP)—A new purchase tax went into effect today, causing the already high cost of living in wartime Britain to take a sharp jump.

The tax, one of the measures enacted by the government to help pay for the war, levies up to 33 1/2 per cent on the wholesale price of goods.

Retailers pay the tax on the wholesale value to the wholesaler, then collect it from their customers. Estimates on how high the tax will reach in comparison with retail prices vary, but most experts expect it to go to 25 per cent.

German Claims

BERLIN (AP)—The German high command issued the following communique Monday:

"A submarine sank a British auxiliary cruiser of over 10,000 tons. Two submarine commanders participated in the destruction of two British convoys."

"By so doing Lieut. Bleichrodt increased the score of his latest cruise against the enemy to 53,300 tons and Lieut. Schepke to 40,300 tons."

"In the evening hours of October 20, torpedo planes sank three strongly-protected merchantmen off the English coast, totaling 20,000 tons."

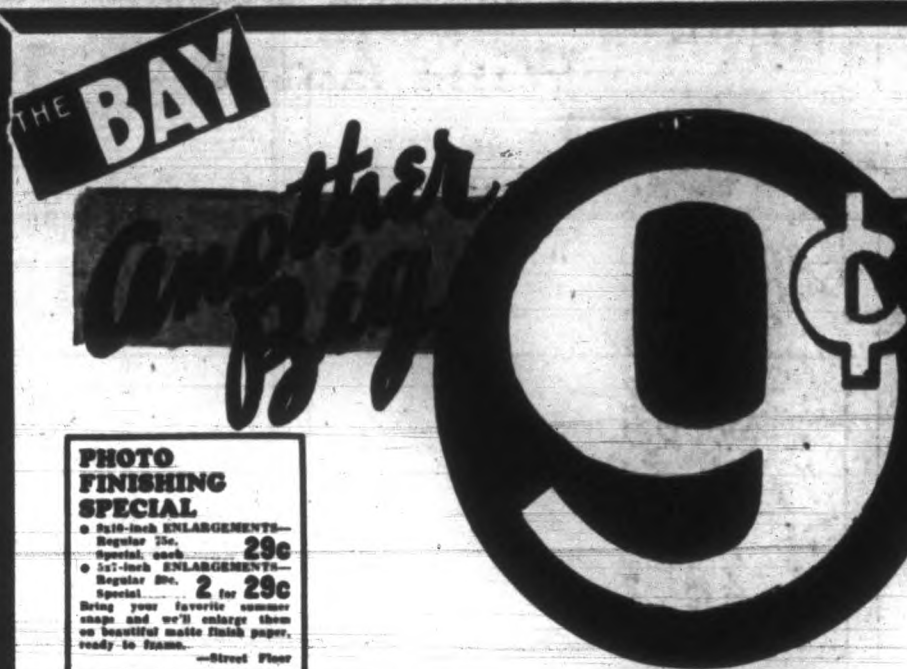

"(British merchant ship losses since the war began have averaged 53,000 tons weekly. Today's German claims are therefore extraordinarily high.)"

Disobeyers Arrested

WARDHA, India (CP)—Vinoba Bhave, chosen by Mahatma K. Gandhi as first to defy the law in a Nationalist campaign of individual civil disobedience, was arrested today and sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

Bhave preached anti-war propaganda last week at Panour, near here. He declared the All-India Congress (Nationalist Party) could not help Great Britain in the war on "ethical grounds."

Gandhi is expected not to court arrest himself, but to select another follower "spiritually qualified."

600 Squamish People Isolated

B.C. Floods Recede, Leaving 2 Dead

British Columbia counted two dead and heavy damage today from flood-waters that washed out bridges, drowned livestock and covered the little town of Squamish with five feet of water, driving its entire population of 600 residents to safety.

Reports from most flooded areas on the west coast of Vancouver Island, the Bridge River district, the central coast and the far north indicated the floods were receding.

Victims of the flood were Engineer J. C. Carpenter and Fireman E. J. Mayer of Smithers, B.C., killed Saturday when part of a Canadian National Railway passenger train plunged through a flood-weakened bridge over Lorne Creek, 125 miles east of Prince Rupert.

The engine, tender and a freight car fell into the raging current. The remainder of the train stayed safely on the rails and there were no reports of injuries to passengers.

The bodies of the two men, both of whom lived in Smithers, B.C., and the engine and freight car remained submerged in the flooded creek.

600 FORCED TO FLEE

At Squamish, town of 600 population, 40 miles north of Vancouver, residents returned to their homes Sunday night after being forced to flee when the flooded Mamquam River sent five feet of water into the town. Dynamite was used to blast sea dikes which prevented the water from escaping, and explosives were also used to cut a channel through one end of a railway bridge and prevent the entire span from being swept away.

Damage was heavy in the town, although no fatalities were caused. Communications with the outside world were severed Saturday when rising water short-circuited apparatus in the telephone exchange.

Practically every family in the town flocked to two hotels and a community hall, whose upper stories offered refuge from the flood, carrying with them a few household possessions. The current was so strong that a number of automobiles caught in the water were overturned. In addition to the railway bridge, several other smaller bridges were completely destroyed.

The flood extended up the Squamish valley, and provincial police said that practically all livestock in the lower part of the valley was lost.

BRIDGES WASHED OUT

An official of the Pacific and Great Eastern Railway said that a small bridge at Pemberton, 57 miles north of Vancouver, was washed out.

A number of bridges were also washed away and several families marooned in the Bridge River area in the interior, where waters were reported to be dropping today after reaching the highest marks ever recorded there.

Road communications with a number of large gold mines in this district were cut when bridges were washed away. At an island in the junction of the Hurley and Cadwallader Rivers three families lost their household effects as they fled from their homes. At one time the flood rose a foot in 30 minutes. Three small bridges were destroyed at Pioneer, and a logging span was washed out at Pacific Eastern. At one point a farmer was forced to swim 150 hogs to safety.

More families left their homes at Kleena-Kleena on the west coast of the mainland, and telegraph communications between the small town and Bella Coola were cut.

ZEBALLOS CLEANS UP

On Vancouver Island residents of the mining settlement of Zeballos were cleaning up today after a flood from the rain-swollen Zeballos River, which brought three feet of water into the main street and forced a number of families from their homes. Roads leading up a valley to several large gold mines were washed out in places and several bridges were destroyed.

GIANT NEW LOCOMOTIVES FOR ISLAND—This is the D-10 type of locomotive now being used by the Equimault and Nanaimo Railway and for which several of the island's railway bridges were reinforced. It is a heavy type, used for hauling wheat trains on the prairies. Before long there will be 21 such locomotives on Vancouver Island.

Second War Winter; Hitler's Plans Clear

By WILLIAM MCGAFFIN

LONDON (AP)—Britain, almost convinced that invasion no longer is imminent, is girding for a second winter of war, which she expects to be far different from the "bloodless" stalemate of last year.

Authoritative circles say Hitler's new plan now seems to be: 1. To deliver the main punch into Premier Churchill's faltering invasion of Egypt.

2. To harass the British Isles with raiders as often and as powerfully as the weather and British defences permit.

3. To attempt to weaken the flow of war materials from the United States to Britain by getting the United States embroiled in war with Japan.

R.A.F. RESPONSIBLE

These circles say with the grim satisfaction that the new program is made necessary by the Royal Air Force, which has foiled Hitler's original plan of bombing Britain into submission. They assert that the danger of invasion, unless something unforeseen happens, is "growing fainter with each passing day."

But they recognize that in this stubbornly balking Hitler, Britain has posed serious problems for herself on the African front, and that the extension of the war to the Near East is a growing possibility.

Prime Minister Churchill said in his recent House of Commons speech that "I shall certainly not make any promises as to what will happen when British, Australian, New Zealand and Indian troops come to close grips with the Italian invaders now making their way across the desert to them."

HITLER'S STRATEGY

With German forces moving into Rumania, and perhaps casting speculative glances at Bulgaria, British military correspondents conjecture Hitler has the following manoeuvre in mind:

1. Attempting to sweep across Turkey (allied to Britain), across Syria (in a bad way since the collapse of France, which held the mandate there), across Transjordan and Palestine to the Suez Canal and Egypt.

2. This would form the left arm of a pincers movement against Egypt.

3. The right pincers would be the Italian forces driving across the western desert from Libya, with perhaps some German aid.

OBSTACLES

Some experts say the German part of this plan has many practical obstacles to its successful realization. Not the least of these is the 12,000-foot Taurus Mountain range which has to be crossed before entering Syria.

The Italians are in a much more favorable position to launch the main offensive. They are 250 miles from Alexandria, and 120 more from Port Said.

The German route from Bucharest, in Rumania, through Asia Minor and the Holy Land to Port Said would be about 1,600 miles.

British military experts hold that because of the difficulties of the terrain, the Italians will be compelled to put their main effort into a frontal attack along the Mediterranean coast where their left flank will be open to attack from the British fleet.

NO BATTLE

All signs point to the first big battle at Matruh, the British advance base on this route. It is the only large village between the Italians, now at Sid Barrani, and Alexandria.

The Italians have bombed this place often, but have failed to halt British preparations to meet the estimated 400,000 troops and mechanized forces Marshal Rodolfo Graziani has massed in Libya and Egypt.

Even if the German army does not attempt to come through Asia Minor to form a left pincers movement against Suez, military circles see a threat from the German air force.

THREAT IN WEST

At the other end of the Mediterranean, German forces massed on the Spanish border could create serious difficulties if they chose to cross Spain and lay siege to Gibraltar, expert military observers say.

Some say that if the Germans went into Spain they would not stop until they had occupied Portugal as well.

They thus would gain added positions on the Atlantic coast and threaten occupation of the Portuguese-owned islands of the Azores and Madeira to harry not only Britain's second Empire "lifeline" around the Cape but also her oil route from Venezuela.

A further threat to Britain's Mediterranean position could come from an Italian invasion of Greece—uninvited holder of a British guarantee of aid.

BRITAIN'S STRENGTH

Some military quarters emphasize that Britain is not alone in Africa. They count upon the following:

1. Gen. Charles de Gaulle and his "free French" forces who have just landed in the Cameroons in Central Africa.

2. The Arabs, who fought a great guerrilla war under Abdel-Krim in Morocco against superior modern forces of France and Spain. (Sent into exile on Reunion Isle by the French in 1926, he appealed for his release in 1936 and promised to be "useful for France." Nothing came of the move, but last year two of his sons were admitted to France's Saint Cyr Military Academy, to please Arabs who still regard Abdel-Krim as a heroic figure.) 3. Turkey, northern bastion of the Near East, pledged to fight with Britain if she is attacked. But what she does probably will depend upon the attitude of Russia, the great enigma.

4. The United States who is

Driver Charged*3 Injured in Junction Crash

In City Police Court this morning Cyril J. MacDonald, 717 Pandora Avenue, pleaded not guilty to a charge of dangerous driving, following an accident Saturday night at Oak Bay Junction as a result of which Lloyd Jones, 717

Pandora Avenue; Miss Ona Wyman and Miss Lucille Witch, were taken to Jubilee Hospital suffering from injuries. MacDonald escaped with only slight cuts to the neck.

The accused was remanded until tomorrow morning by Magistrate Henry C. Hall, who told him he could arrange for bail if he desired.

According to the police report on the accident MacDonald was traveling east on Pandora Avenue about midnight and collided with two telephone poles, 50 feet apart, east of the Fort Street intersection. The car spun around and was badly damaged. The roof was torn off and the body considerably smashed.

This was the most serious of a series of accidents over the week-end in the city and Oak Bay. Personal injuries in other cases were slight, but car damage heavy.

Milk and broken glass was scattered this morning at Fort Bay and Haultain Roads when a milk truck driven by Norman Lambrick, R.M.D. No. 4, and a sedan in charge of W. A. Hicks collided about 9 in the middle of the intersection. Both cars were badly damaged. The milk truck, tearing off the right front wheel and smashing in the door. The front of the milk truck, was damaged and its load strewn on the road. Constables Dan Dossell and Will Thompson of Oak Bay police department attended and took charge of cleaning up the mess. The cars had to be towed away. Neither driver was hurt.

Cars driven by John Fisher, going east on Gorge Road, and G. W. McKenzie, Cliffside P.O., Shawigan Lake, going west on Gorge Road, collided Sunday morning at 1.55, both cars being considerably damaged. Jean Erickson, 2660 Orchard Avenue, a passenger in Fisher's car, received a cut to the left eyelid. She was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital for treatment.

Capt. Clarence Emsley, Ordnance Depot, Signal Hill, received a cut on the top of the head when the car he was driving collided with a fire hydrant outside the C.P.R. telegraph office early yesterday morning. The hydrant was broken off at the base. No injuries were sustained by the passengers, William Thompson, officer of H.M.C.S. Givenchy and Miss M. Green.

At 12.55 Saturday night Wesley Clancy, Patricia Bay Store, driving his car south on Government Street, was hit in the rear by another car, causing him to collide with a car driven by John A. Cameron, 1703 Leighton Road, going east on Belleville. The car which hit Clancy's did not stop. The Clancy and Cameron cars were damaged considerably. There were no personal injuries. Only slight damage was sustained by cars in charge of Alec Sedgley, 230 Michigan Street, and J. G. Rugg, Bluebell Cafe, Blanshard Street, when they collided at 9.30 this morning on Blanshard Street. Sedgley was going north on Blanshard, Rugg was backing out from the curb.

Slight head injuries which necessitated attention at Jubilee Hospital were received by Douglas Symonds, 1828 St. Anne Street, a pedestrian, Saturday night at 8, when he and a car driven by Victoria C. Smith, Dufferin Street, collided at Cranmore and Hampshire Roads.

Alwyn L. Davis, 1112 Summit Avenue, and Stephen Homer, 1350 Pandora Avenue, driving cars north on Quadra Street Saturday night, met in collision. Little damage was done.

At 7.30 last night cars driven by Stuart McPhee, 1035 Oliphant Street, and William Barclay, 916 Collinson Street, collided at Belleville and Blanshard Streets.

T.B. Case Admits Crime, Wins Brother's Appeal

T. J. "Leo" Boyer came from the Jubilee Hospital T.B. pavilion today to confess the crime for which his brother, was convicted and to win for the latter a new trial on two cheque charges.

Appearing in Court of Appeal this morning, Leo supported statements of his brother, Anthony Friedrich Boyer, on mistaken identification, said he had stolen cheques and cashed them, informed the court he had confessed to Father Gaudette and had told his brother's counsel of the incidents.

On his testimony Chief Justice M. A. MacDonald ordered a new trial. No charge was laid immediately against Leo, as the invalid, his ailment evident in his posture, told police officers: "Don't worry about me. I won't try to get away."

Anthony Friedrich Boyer was convicted by Judge H. H. Shandley in County Court last month on two charges of obtaining money by use of forged cheques. They were drawn on the Shawigan Lake Lumber Company and made out in favor of George Turner and George Scott. He was sentenced to a year on each charge, terms to run concurrently.

Before the Court of Appeal today the prisoner, appearing on his own behalf, stated he had positive evidence he was not the guilty party and that he could produce the culprit. Court adjourned until his brother was brought from the hospital.

BROTHER TELLS STORY

After being examined by the prisoner, who established Leo had visited him at Shawigan Lake in May of this year, the witness asked permission to give his story in his own way and was granted the privilege of addressing the court from a chair.

"Did you steal the cheques?" the prisoner asked.

"Yes, I stole them," Leo replied, explaining he had entered the office of the Shawigan Lake Lumber Company by an open window, taken two chequebooks and a perforating machine. He had cut cheque blanks from the back of one of the books and made out one on the highway.

"I cashed one at the Coach Lines here in Victoria," he testified, stating he had been mistaken for his brother by a Coach Lines driver who had spoken on his behalf when he sought to cash the document.

He had then bought a ticket for Shawigan, thrown it away, bought a bottle of whisky and "met up with another fellow."

TRIO MAKE OUT CHEQUES

"We got feeling pretty good and I told him what I had done," witness continued. "He asked if I had any more and I said 'Yes.' We made out some more cheques in the New England." There, he said, the pair had contacted a third party who had a stolen typewriter. One of the trio forged the signature of Mr. Boyd, manager of the Shawigan Lake company.

"Then we started distributing them," he said, adding he had cashed one at the Horse Shoe Bay Inn before proceeding to Nanaimo. There he had eaten and the other two "beat it."

Confronted by cheques cashed at the Coach Lines and Horse Shoe Bay Inn, he said he had written the endorsements. At the court's request he rewrote the names on another slip of paper for comparison by the court with the forged documents.

Cross-examined by Carew Martin for the Crown, Leo stated he had first learned of a charge being laid against his brother when his mother came to see him while he was very ill at the Jubilee Hospital.

On the basis of his testimony the appeal was allowed and a new trial ordered.

Famed Publisher Gives Up Paper

Benjamin W. Fleisher, 70-year-old publisher of the Japan Advertiser, one of the Orient's most influential English-language newspapers, arrived at a west coast Canadian port today, with hundreds of other Americans, fleeing China and Japan, which would become untenable for them should a Pacific war break out. With him was his son, Wilfrid, the Advertiser's late managing editor.

The famous old Advertiser, which would have been half a century old next month, is now being managed by the Japanese government—subsidized Japan Times and Mail, the organ of the anti-American foreign office. Fleisher sold his paper for $100,000.

In late years the American and British population has been lessening and so has the Advertiser's circulation. Censorship made it difficult to publish the news.

For 35 years Fleisher had been the guiding genius of the Advertiser, working it up to 15,000 circulation. He first became interested in the paper when he landed in Japan in 1905 and started selling space for it. Three years later he bought it.

Several members of the Advertiser's staff crossed the Pacific with Fleisher and his son.

Rains Relieve Power Problem

Water shortage worries of the B.C. Electric Railway Company were washed away today as a surplus splashed musically over the spillway at Jordan River dam.

Lack of storage water this month brought forth a warning from the company's emergency measures might be required to protect essential services. Before such action was taken the rains came and a 6.6-inch precipitation for the week ending Saturday filled up the reservoir. Last Thursday a total of 5 1/2 inches was recorded in the precipitation gauge at the power station.

Ward 7, Sankey Liberal Association will open with winter series of card games progressive 500 at Hampton Hall, Wednesday night at 8.

George Irving, 2660 Blanshard Avenue, reported to police two yellow leather guides were stolen from his car and a window broken while it was parked outside the church at Cedar Hill Road and Hillside Avenue yesterday at noon.

In response to a phone call from Frank Noel, 2640 Wark Street, that he had caught a boy stealing gasoline from his car, city police attended and picked up an adult and a juvenile last night around 9.30. Both will be summoned and charged.

Mrs. William Murgatroyd, president of the auxiliary, and who received with Mrs. Mayhew, expressed sincere thanks to the hosts, artists, commentator and committee.

Following the formal part of the entertainment, refreshments were served from a table adorned with tawny-colored chrysanthemums arranged in a low bowl, Mrs. A. E. Whitehouse, Mrs. Bertha Parsons and Mrs. W. E. Harper presiding at the urns.

Fred Bates, 2217 Shalbourne Street, reported to police that his Ford coupe was stolen sometime between yesterday and this morning. The car reported stolen from Roy McKay, Canadian football player, was located by the police over the week-end.

The following artists gave an appreciated musical program at the Y.M.C.A. hut at Macaulay Point with Dorothy Warren acting as master of ceremonies and leading in community singing: Ruth Bottenheimer, Benny Hope, Mary Bong, Marion Lowe; Private Lew Weeks, "chalk talks," and Isabelle Norris.

Quiet Ceremony At Legislature

Ceremonies at the opening of the B.C. Legislature on Tuesday of next week will be subdued in tone. There will be none of the glittering display of peacetime sessions.

In place of his elaborate Windsor uniform Lieutenant-Governor E. W. Hamber will wear ordinary morning clothes when he reads the Speech from the Throne.

The customary cannon salute from the Causeway will be dispensed with, but there will be a guard of honor for His Honor's inspection outside the buildings. Honorary aides accompanying the Lieutenant-Governor will be dressed in service uniform instead of the dress clothes of peacetime years.

It may be the last session which Mr. Hamber will open. Legally his term at Government House expires next April 30, although many organizations would like to see federal authorities break precedent and reappoint him for another term.

The coming session, which is the fifth of the present Assembly, may also be its last. It was elected June 1, 1937. According to constitution its term does not expire until June 1, 1942, but customary practice is to go to the country in four years.

While members will have attended five sessions of the House they will have received only four full indemnities. The fifth was a $200 allowance voted for the special session called this spring to deal with the gasoline "strike."

Midnight Screams Mystify Steele St.

When Mrs. Robinson returned at midnight Saturday to her home, 3108 Steele Street, she heard feminine screams coming from a parked car. She telephoned the police to send a car at once. When no police car showed up after more than 20 minutes, she said she phoned again to learn that the police had been so busy with a hospital accident case and rush of other Saturday night cases that there had been no spare men for the girl case.

Mrs. Robinson said the screaming kept up for 30 minutes. Then the neighbors began to turn on their lights and in their pyjamas

STEINWAY

To Own Such a Piano Is the Hallmark of Musical Appreciation

Everywhere it is recognized that the Steinway is the finest piano in all the world. Great artists use no other instrument. But it is in the homes where musical appreciation reaches its highest level, or where there is a student who is capable of great achievements, that the Steinway is most often to be found. If yours is a home where love of the piano is a source of pleasure... then you will be interested to learn that Steinway ownership is as easy as any other instrument. We will be glad to give you full particulars.

A Steinway & Son's Upright Grand (It has been used, but with the loving care that the Steinway owner gives such a fine instrument) is now available. The price is hundreds of dollars below what a new Steinway would cost. We invite you to see it... and play it.

come to their front doors or look out of the windows. Mrs. Robinson said there was only one man in the car, but she couldn't be sure whether there were one, two or three girls.

One woman neighbor, who was able to get a look in the car, said there was a light on the floor of the car by which she could see there was one man, but she could not tell whether he was a soldier or sailor.

After all the neighbors had turned on their lights, the man drove the car off. Mrs. Robinson said feminine screams were still coming from the car as it went down the street, but there was no police answer to her call to save the girl or girl occupants of the car. Residents of the district have not yet been able to solve the mystery.

Boy Purse-snatcher
A 'teen-age purse-snatcher was operating on Linden Avenue yesterday evening, according to a report given police.

A young lady was walking home south on Linden Avenue near McClure when a boy made a grab at her purse, but failed to get it.

She told police that when the boy, 15 or 16 years old, made the grab she struck him and he ran away.

Motorists paid $17.50 for minor traffic infractions in City Police Court this morning.

Spirit of Nelson To Bring Victory

MELBOURNE (CP)—Lord Nelson's spirit "will bring us victory," Admiral Sir Ragmar Colville, first naval member of the Commonwealth naval board, told a Trafalgar Day meeting here today.

Asked what Nelson would have done if confronted with naval warfare as it is fought today, Sir Ragmar replied:

"He would have followed the principle that, when in doubt, no captain can do much wrong if he lays his ship alongside the enemy."

NO CELEBRATION

LONDON (CP)—Great Britain, again on guard against forces massed across the English Channel awaiting an invasion opportunity, paid little notice today to the naval hero who saved her from invasion by Napoleon 135 years ago.

Trafalgar Day, anniversary of the battle in which Horatio Nelson broke up Napoleon's navy off Spain, October 22, 1805, is usually the occasion for celebration.

Today, however, the constant danger of German air raids prevented parades and kept crowds from assembling in Trafalgar Square, dominated by a statue of Nelson.

Portsmouth, where Nelson's flagship Victory rests in permanent drydock, also was quiet. Navy League officials and descendants of the tars of Nelson's fleet walked through the rain to lay wreaths at the foot of the Nelson column.

A bomb burst nearby recently, leaving a crater, but failed to mar the statue or its base. Nelson's admirers saw this as a favorable omen.

At Portsmouth, from the modern steel masts of the Victory, fluttered the famous signal which has been the watchword of Britain in every succeeding war — "England expects that every man will do his duty."

Orient Residents Protest Ship Rates

SHANGHAI (AP)—United States citizens registered for removal from the Orient have held an "indignation meeting" to protest passage rates on three steamships dispatched to the Far East by United States state department order.

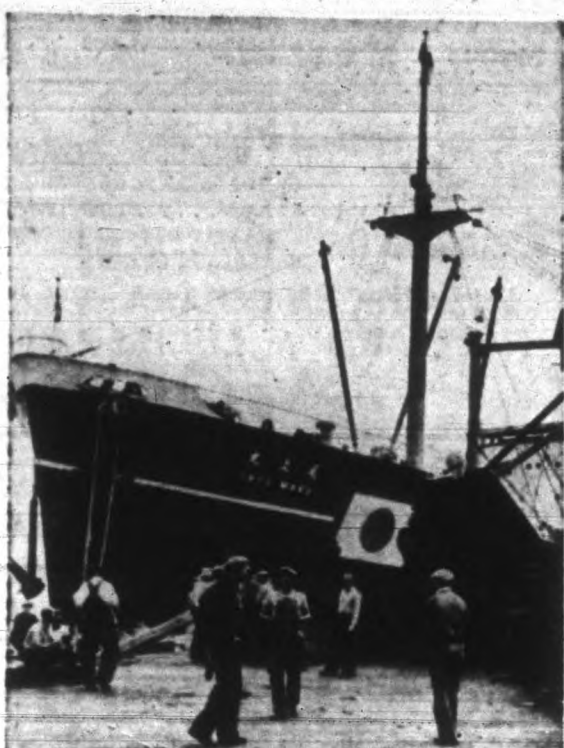

Shanghai newspapers predicted that at least half of the 3,500 Americans registered for return home would be forced to cancel their reservations following the announcement of rates. Several other protest meetings are scheduled.

Minimum fares for the first two evacuation ships, the Monterey and Mariposa, are $35 in United States dollars or approximately 6,300 Chinese dollars, which is prohibitive to Americans paid salaries in Chinese money and also to missionaries and others receiving low United States dollar salaries.

Trafalgar Day Observed in Halifax

HALIFAX (CP)—Headed by Rear-Admiral S. S. Bonham-Carter of the Royal Navy, 200 naval men observed Trafalgar Day at a dinner here Saturday night.

Cheers greeted the reading of a signal sent H.M.S. Ajax by H.M.S. Achilles, co-partner in the fight against the German pocket battleship Admiral Graf Spee off the River Plate last year. The message, sent after the recent Mediterranean battle in which the Ajax sank two Italian destroyers and damaged a third, read: "Heartiest congratulations. Don't sink them all before we have a chance to get at them."

RISE IN SUN FLAG CAUSES SHIP STRIKE—When longshoremen at San Pedro, Cal., said they found the Japanese freighter Ono Maru, above, carried the Rising Sun flag as high or higher than the Stars and Stripes, they went on strike. The strike was called off when the captain lowered his country's ensign.

4,500 MEN IDLE IN MILL STRIKES

SEATTLE (AP)—Twenty-one mills and logging operations in Washington remained closed today because of strikes, with an estimated 4,500 men idle.

The strikes:

In the Aberdeen-Hoquiam area, by tugboat workers belong to the C.I.O. Inland Boatmen's Union, affecting about 1,200; three mills and three logging camps down.

In the Olympia Shelton area, by C.I.O. Boymen and Rafter's Union, affecting about 2,200; three mills closed.

In Tacoma, by the A.F.L. Lumber and Sawmill Workers' Union, affecting about 800 men; 12 mill operations closed.

The walkout of 50 tugboat employees caused three mills to close in the Grays Harbor area because of the inability to get logs and three logging camps shut down because they were unable to ship by tugboat. Several other mills reported they had only a limited supply of logs on hand and would have to close within a week unless the strike was settled. Additional closures would bring the total of men affected to around 5,000.

New Claims Agent

VANCOUVER—O. H. Wickland, recently appointed district claims agent, Canadian National Railways, B.C. district, with headquarters at Vancouver, has arrived to take over his new post. He brings long experience in claims work with him, and his duties will take him to all parts of the province served by the railway.

Mr. Wickland joined the car service department of the C.N.R. at Winnipeg in 1916, and two years later was made district claims agent at that point. In 1919 he opened the claims office for the Saskatchewan district at Saskatoon, where he has been located for the past 21 years.

BRITISH SAILORS REACH CANADA

AN EAST COAST CANADIAN PORT (CP)—Hundreds of Royal Navy officers and men disembarked from a British liner here today before it sailed on the last leg of its journey to another east-tern Canadian port.

The blue-clad seamen, prepared to take over some of the overage destroyers the United States has exchanged in trade for naval and air bases in the Atlantic, made up the majority of the passengers.

Officers of the Royal Air Force, including six Canadians, formed a group coming to Canada to instruct men who will some day fight Britain's sky war. The Canadians are Fit-Lieut. Douglas MacPherson and Flying Officer Cameron Willis, both of Saskatoon; Fit-Lieut. Frederick Bell-Irving of Vancouver, Flying Officer Jack Brown and Flying Officer R. F. Halton of Toronto and Fit-Lieut. Alex. McDowell of Blairmore, Alta.

The trip was uneventful apart from a two-day storm.

NEW AIR COMODORE WELL KNOWN HERE

Of interest to many in Victoria, where he chose a wife some years ago, is the promotion of Group Captain A. T. N. Cowley to the rank of acting air commodore.

The new air commodore's wife is Marion, daughter of Mrs. M. E. Service, 3933 North Quadra Street. They have three children. Born in Winnipeg he received his early primary and secondary education there before proceeding to McGill University.

In the years before the last war he traveled across western Canada as resident engineer for the Canadian Northern Railway. He also engaged in topographical survey work for the Canadian Pacific Railway.

During the 1914-18 war, Air Commodore Cowley saw service with the Royal Naval Air Service, which he joined in May, 1915, continuing with the Royal Air

Wheat

WINNIPEG (CP)—Moderate domestic flour business stimulated buying by mills at Winnipeg Grain Exchange today, but operations were light. Prices closed 1/4 lower to unchanged with the October future at 70 1/2 cents a bushel, December at 71 1/2 and May at 75 1/2.

Buenos Aires was unchanged at 11 o'clock, and noon prices at Chicago were unchanged to 1/4 cent higher.

Excellent demand for all but top grades was reported in the cash wheat market.

Fair buying by domestic interests lifted oats prices more than a cent in the coarse grain pit, and barley prices also showed a strong trend.

Hard Blow Helped Make Newton Better Student

When Galileo died in Italy, the world lost one of the great minds of all time. Perhaps we should not say he was "lost," since his work and ideas lived on. Yet he no longer could add to the progress of mankind. Someone else was needed to lead science to new success.

Young Isaac Newton reading by the roadside.

The death of Galileo took place in January, 1642. In that same year—on Christmas Day—a baby was born in a village in England. He was a little fellow, this baby, weighing only two or three pounds.

There was fear that the tiny infant would die, but his mother watched over him with utmost care. He was kept extra warm, and the flame of life did not go out.

The babe was Isaac Newton. Although frail and weak in his first years, he was destined to have a long and important career.

Before his third birthday, Isaac was taken to the home of his grandmother to live. His father had died, and his mother had married again.

The grandmother proved a good guardian, and when the lad was old enough he was sent to school. In those days the relatives of children had to pay for any schooling which might be given. Most boys and girls did not even learn to read and write.

Isaac at first showed little promise as a scholar. He failed to listen to his teachers, and they felt that perhaps he was wasting his time at school.

Then, at about the time of his 13th birthday, something happened to Isaac which changed his outlook. A larger and stronger boy struck him a hard blow.

Isaac was angered, and thought about the matter. "I cannot fight him back," he said to himself, "but I can work hard at my studies and show that I am better than he is!"

When the boy put his mind to work, he quickly mastered his lessons. Before long he became the leader of his class.

Isaac not only won honor at school but also showed a thirst for knowledge for its own sake. When not in the classroom, he often carried a book about to read when he had a spare moment. Now and then he might have been seen seated under a tree, deep in a book, instead of finishing an errand.

HOROSCOPE

Tuesday, October 22
This is an uncertain day in planetary direction, a bit threatening in the morning but promising later. There is a sign encouraging to conflict of all sorts. This is a favorable configuration for women who look ahead in preparing for their households. While there are aspects contributing to nervous tension, self-discipline should overcome impatience with depression. The stars presage service in army, navy and aviation for increasing numbers of young men.

Great accomplishments in the building of airplanes and other mechanisms employed in war will have far-reaching effects for Britain.

Radio propaganda now will sow fears and threats to the peoples of the western hemisphere. Closer co-operation between Canada and the United States will provoke intense resentment among dictators intent upon ruling the world. The food problem in Europe will cause overtures that have double purpose.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of ups and downs. Legacies will come to many.

Children born on this day may be intense in nature, impressionable and ambitious. They are likely to crave sensations and should be carefully guided.

CEDAR HILL P.T.A.
The regular monthly meeting of the Cedar Hill P.T.A. has been changed from Wednesday to Tuesday, October 22, at 8 p.m. This will be preceded by an executive and committee meeting at 7.15 p.m.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

By William Ferguson

IF YOU WERE TOO ILL TODAY TO DO YOUR WORK, YOU HAD PLENTY OF COMPANY IN YOUR MISERY! THERE ARE ABOUT SIX MILLION PERSONS IN THE U.S. EVERY DAY, TOO SICK TO CARRY ON THEIR TASKS.

THE EARTH HAS ABOUT 5,000,000 SQUARE MILES OF DESERTS.

ANSWER: Bus, omnibus; phone, telephone; coon, racoon.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—I am happily married to a wonderful man and have had two years of wedded bliss, but this problem has come up: I have two children, 12 and 8 years old, by a former marriage and my husband is generous and good to them. Once every week their father is allowed to visit them and pay me their support money. Now my husband's business takes him away for five weeks at a time and it irks him to have me entertain my former husband while he is gone. Also, if he happens to be at home when the boys' father comes, he is much displeased if their father corrects the children in any way. I can understand my husband's point of view about disliking having him here when he is away, but the father is in his rights to see the children. What shall I do?

ANSWER: Divorce is always a pretty complicated business, isn't it? Especially when there are children. But it seems to me that you can settle your problem easily enough. Have your ex-husband telephone when he is coming to see the children and you get off of the premises. Probably he would like to have the children to himself for a little while without either you or your present husband being around.

DEAR MISS DIX—A girl got married to a college student when she was 18 and her mother had the marriage annulled, or at least the girl thought so. The couple went their separate ways and the girl married another young man whom she divorced. Now the girl is very much in love with her first husband and wants him to come back and live with her, but he has fallen in love with another girl and is contemplating marrying her, but finds that the supposed schoolgirl and boy marriage hasn't been annulled and that he is still married in the eyes of the law. Inasmuch as the girl has been married to another man and in turn divorced, he feels that he has grounds for divorce. The question is: Does he? And does the second husband have grounds for a divorce?

ANSWER: Maybe they know the answer in Reno—but I don't. DOROTHY DIX.

Ottawa Riders Swamp Argos

All doubts, if there really were any, of Ottawa Roughriders' ability to take care of themselves in football's Big Four went into the discard today. Nobody can doubt the ability of a team that whips Toronto Argonauts 41 to 6.

That was the score Saturday as Roughriders marched to lone leadership of the Interprovincial Rugby Football Union. Victory broke a first-place deadlock between Riders and Argos, resulting from two previous wins each.

Montreal defeated Hamilton 9 to 4 at Agincourt in the other big four game. The two Ontario Rugby Football Union games saw Toronto Balmy Beach whip Sarnia 15 to 5 to gain sole possession of first place, and Camp Borden and Hamilton Alerts battle to a 10 to 10 tie at London that left them deadlocked in last place.

Ottawa Roughriders gained all their points by the touchdown route—seven trips over the Argos line. They might have done better, but for a fumble that set the stage for a Toronto touchdown by Elwin Morris in the second quarter. Morris ran 80 yards for the major score.

Varsity Gridders Defeat Vancouver

VANCOUVER (CP)—Varsity Thunderbirds defeated the Vancouver Bulldogs 6 to 0 in a Canadian football match here Saturday. It was the second game of the season for each team, both having dropped a previous decision to the powerful Victoria Revellers, the third team in the Three V League.

The teams looked fairly evenly matched in all departments, but the Varsity squad hammered the Bulldogs' line during the last half of the second quarter and then took to the air to capitalize on a completed forward pass.

G. Finlay sent a forward pass to Gus Carmichael shortly before the half, the latter running 20 yards around left end for the touch. He was tackled hard, but managed to go over the line before hitting the ground.

Carmichael then went out of the game and J. Harmer converted for the extra point.

Calgary Bronks Gain Playoff

CALGARY (CP)—Jimmy Gilkes, fleet Calgary backfielder, picked up a fumbled ball late in the fourth quarter Saturday afternoon and in one speedy 65-yard dash wiped out a long string of Bronk errors, defeated Regina Roughriders 7 to 1 and eased Calgary's red raiders into the Western Conference football playoff by way of the back door.

As result of the victory—which Bronks are willing to concede to Lady Luck as much as to themselves—the Calgary gridders will oppose Winnipeg Blue Bombers in a best of three final for the western Canada championship. Last game of the regular schedule, between Roughriders and Winnipeg at the Manitoba capital Saturday, will have no bearing on the final standing of the league.

SPORTS MIRROR

he is 40, there's no better catcher than Jimmy Wilson," explains the manager—who has National Leaguers holding their heads high once more.

While he preferred Frey's left-hand batting against Detroit's right-hand pitcher, McKechnie testifies he had not the slightest concern about Eddie Joost's ability to fill in satisfactorily at second base as key man of the infield. Frey, it will be recalled, was a terrific bust against the New York Yankees a year ago.

"Perhaps the forced substitution of Joost was for the best," beams McKechnie.

"Wilson's was one of the most remarkable performances of all time... a 40-year-old hopping back in harness in an emergency after being out two years. It was a great way for him to close an illustrious career."

Wilson fooled McKechnie and everybody else by batting .353, but it was his brilliant catching that counted most. When Charley Gehring is made to look like an easy out, and Hank Greenberg and Rudy York are held to one home run apiece in seven games in parks tailor-made for them, the opposing catcher is calling for the right pitch... and getting it.

It's too bad new pairs of legs can't be put on catchers like Jimmy Wilson.

DENIED LAPORTE TO BE SENATOR

OTTAWA (CP)—Justice Minister Lapointe will not leave the House of Commons to become government leader in the Senate, Prime Minister King said today, following his return from a trip to the Maritime Provinces.

"Oh, no, Mr. Lapointe will be staying in the Commons," the Prime Minister said when asked about reports that such a development might be expected.

"I return with new pride and confidence in our country," Mr. King said. "It was most heartening to see the large numbers of men being trained for the defence of Canada and the Empire and to see for myself the marvelous progress that is being made in developing facilities for defence."

Mr. King traveled for six days through Quebec and the Maritimes inspecting defence measures.

No Upset in U.S. Football

NEW YORK (AP)—It took a discerning, not to say hypersensitive eye, to discover a legitimate football upset Saturday.

Almost with a break, the United States college gridiron leaders moved smoothly past their third October tests and left the general situation virtually unchanged.

Tennessee steam-rollered Alabama 27 to 12. Notre Dame, boasting its best team since Elmer Layden took charge, rolled over Carnegie Tech 61 to 0, using 67 players.

Duke defeated Colgate 13 to 0. Columbia beat Georgia 19 to 13 in a thrilling duel. Boston College walloped Idaho 60 to 0 and Navy stopped Drake 19 to 0.

Tulane, bowled over Rice 15 to 6 and Southern Methodist tripped Auburn 20 to 13.

Minnesota's Gophers stopped Ohio State 13 to 7 and Tommy Harmon and Bob Westfall led Michigan to an easy 28 to 0 victory over Illinois. Northwestern won 27 to 7 over Wisconsin.

Lone unbeaten ball-handlers handed Washington State its first defeat 26 to 14. Washington crushed Oregon State 10 to 0 as Southern California knocked over Oregon 13 to 0 and California tripped U.C.L.A. 9 to 7.

Winnipeg Bombers Defeat U.S. Squad

WINNIPEG (CP)—Sparked by the flashing feet of Fritzzy Henson, Winnipeg Blue Bombers plunged and passed their way to a 27 to 15 victory over North Dakota University Sioux here Saturday afternoon in an exhibition game played under a combination of American and Canadian rules.

The Dominion champion Bombers, who have qualified with Calgary Bronks for the western interprovincial football final, chalked up four touchdowns, two by Henson and two by Lieut. Jeff Nicklin of the Royal Winnipeg Rifles. Halfback Leroy Hausman and left end Allen Drage, each scored a touchdown for North Dakota.

Canada Refuge For Ex-Empress

QUEBEC (CP)—Members of Austria's royal family prepared today to take up residence at Villa St. Joseph, a large residence put at their disposal by an order of nuns, on the outskirts of this ancient Canadian city.

The former Empress Zita arrived here last night from Royalston, Mass., where she had been staying since coming to North America following the outbreak of war last year. Four of her children are attending school here.

Zita planned to stay temporarily at Sillery Convent until the villa is prepared for her use.

Two younger sons of the former Empress, ex-Archdukes Rudolph and Charles Louis, are studying with their sisters, ex-Archduchess Charlotte, in Laval University's School of Sciences. Another daughter, Elizabeth, is attending Sillery Convent. Her eldest son, Otto, is pretender to the Austrian throne.

The 48-year-old Zita is the widow of Emperor Karl, who succeeded to the Austro-Hungarian throne in 1916 and abdicated in 1918. Karl died in Madeira in 1922. She joins in exile in Canada Crown Princess Juliana of Holland.

It was Whirlaway's first victory over Royce Martin's Our Boots in three meetings. He was ridden by Johnny Longden of Taber, Alta.

For fear it will be shunned by superstitious guests, many hotels have no floor numbered 13.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed to the Morning Star to Go

The liver should never get one minute of rest. It takes three pints of blood to keep it working. If it gets one minute of rest, it stops working. It is the most important organ in the body.
